Relief to industry as SC bars NPA tag till further orders

Bank accounts not declared non-performing asset as of August 31 to remain so for now

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday said standard accounts that have not been declared non-performing assets as on August 31, shall not be made declared NPAs till further orders. A bench headed by Justice Ashok Bhushan passed the interim order after hearing various stakeholders on a batch of petitions seeking interest waiver on loan moratorium granted by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

The court will continue hearing the case on September 10.

While arguing whether banks should charge interest on moratorium period, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta told the Supreme Court, "The idea of the moratorium was to defer repayment to ease the burden caused by Covid and lockdown so that business can manage working capital. The idea was not to waive interest. The effort is that those who are affected by Covid and facing distress get the benefit and those who are defaulters are not able to take benefit." Mehta informed the bench that an expert committee will come up with sector-specific guidelines on September 6 to ease stress caused by the pandemic.

However, the bench said, "The Senior advocate Harish Salve, appearing for Indian Banks' Association, said, "Common man's problems are different from those of corporates. Individual and industrial problems need to be addressed differently."

Meanwhile, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday asked bankers to roll out the loan restructuring framework by September 15. She also told banks to extend all possible support to MSMEs. Nirmala met the heads of scheduled commercial banks and non-banking financial institutions after the moratorium for loans got over on August 31.

"The meeting was held to review the preparedness for implementation of the loans resolution framework for Covid-19 related stress. The minister also sought to allay the concerns of banks about NPAs and restructuring," a person privy to the meeting told TNIE.

"The finance minister focused on lenders immediately putting in place a board-approved policy for resolution, identifying eligible borrowers, and reaching out to them," the finance ministry stated.

'Covid hasn't dented people's aspiration'

Noting that the pandemic has not affected people's aspiration, Modi said India was among the first to advocate use of masks and social distancing

India best investment destination: PM

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday sought to woo global investors to saying India has become a leading attraction for investments.

Modi said all initiatives of his government have been taken keeping in mind the best global practices. "India is becoming one of leading attractions for FDI. The world believes in us. This year, when there is a drop in foreign investments across the world, we received $20 billion foreign funds," he said in his keynote address at the 3rd Annual Leadership Summit of the US-India Strategic Partnership Forum.

Noting that ease of living is as important as ease of doing business for his government, Modi said India has an aspirational population that has decided to take the country to new heights. "The pandemic has tested our resilience, our economic and health systems, but India is committed to democracy and diversity," he said.

Spelling out what the Atmanirbhar Bharat campaign means to India, Modi said it ensures local with global. "Over 1.3 billion people have embarked to make Atmanirbhar Bharat. Despite our local needs, we did not shy away from our global responsibilities. A self-reliant India will ensure a better world. The road ahead is full of opportunities," he said.

The PM's address assumes significance as it comes soon after External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar's participation in the summit and weeks after co-chairmen of the India caucus of the US Congress wrote to US Trade Representative Robert Lighthizer urging him to expedite a Indo-US mini trade deal.

"India presents opportunities of a young, diverse, and rules-based economy but the persistent issues that matter to investors also loom large, namely timely judicial recourse, policy stability, and supporting infrastructure," said Kriti Upadhyay, Research Associate at the US-based CSIS Wadhvani Chair.

INTENDING to enhance the state's Information Technology industry's contribution to at least 30 per cent of India's trillion-dollar digital economy vision, the Karnataka Government announced its new IT Policy 2020-2025. Much like in the Industrial Policy, incentives have been linked to districts categorised as zones and industries investing outside Bengaluru receiving more subsidies.

The new IT policy aims to create 60 lakh direct and indirect jobs over the next five years by facilitating ecosystems in new regions outside Bengaluru Urban and Rural districts. The cabinet also approved a Special Incentives Scheme for Electronics System Design and Manufacturing (ESDM) sector to attract industries moving out from China.

"In the IT sector, we have achieved a level of maturity in Bengaluru and it is now time to take it to Tier-II and Tier-III cities. We are calling it 'Beyond Bengaluru'. The goal of this policy is to boost IT penetration and innovation in the state holistically. The focus will be on employment generation, which is currently at 30-32 lakh, and we want to catapult it to 60 lakh," said Meena Nagaraj C N, Director, IT & BT and Science and Technology on the emphasis on 'Beyond Bengaluru' in the new IT policy. Modi's security up after email threat

@ New Delhi

THE security cover of Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been enhanced following an email that issued a direct threat to the PM, stating "Kill Narendra Modi".

The National Investigation Agency, which received the email, has roped in the Multi-Agency Coordination Centre (MAC), which has senior representatives from R&AW, Intelligence Bureau and the Defence Intelligence Agencies, to investigate the matter.

The Union Ministry of Home Affairs is treating the matter "seriously" and has asked the Special Protection Group,

Probe by apex intel body

"The NIA has received certain emails from an email ID threatening some dignitaries/agencies. The contents of the email are self-explanatory... It is requested to take action as deemed appropriate," the NIA wrote in to MAC, the apex intel assessment body, and MHA which is responsible for the protection of Prime Minister Modi, to remain on high alert, according to sources in the security establishment.

The email, dated August 8, was received from the 'yylawani12345@gmail.com' id. The NIA chose not to do any inquiry/verification on its own as it thought it best to pass it on to the apex intelligence assessment body, sources said.

Sources in the security establishment say that the origin of the e-mail has been traced to a location outside India.

Top up card on app, get ready for contactless Metro ride

A demonstration by Metro staff on how passengers should maintain social distancing while boarding

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

PREPPING to resume operations under the shadow of the Covid-19 pandemic with all safety precautions, Namma Metro will facilitate contactless entry at 40 stations. The Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation has updated its 'Namma Metro' app for topping up Metro travel cards. And despite all the screenings and passengers being let in only one by one, Metro authorities are confident that the process will be smooth as they expect only a maximum of 80,000 commuters per day.

A S Shankar, Executive Director, Operations & Maintenance, told The New Indian Express, "Topping-up can be done through the app, on our website or at the Point of Sale machines at every station. The PoS machines will give a print-out with a QR code which can be scanned to top up the travel card. This has been done to ensure no contact between individuals at any point due to the Covid-19 epidemic," he said.

With the first set of Metro trains set to run after a gap of 168 days from the Baiyappannahalli and Mysuru Road stations terminating stations on the Purple Line, at 8 am on Monday, hectic preparations are on.

"We have purchased 45 thermal scanners to check the body temperature of passengers at the 40 stations and they will all be utilised at the entry gates. Only one entry-exit gate and an additional exit gate will be opened at most stations for safety purposes," he said. CONTINUED ON: P2

Govt mulls going to court to postpone BBMP polls

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka cabinet on Thursday discussed the need to go to court seeking the postponement of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike elections to facilitate delimitation of BBMP wards.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs minister JC Madhuswamy said that a final call on delimitation to redraw and increase the number of wards under BBMP will be taken on Friday in a Joint Select Committee meeting. The government is considering proposals to increase the number of wards from the existing 198 to 225 with each ward consisting of an average population of 40,000 to 42,000.

"The government's thinking is that the number of wards needs to be increased. If elections have to take place after the delimitation process then we will have to approach the courts to request that BBMP elections be postponed. Since BBMP's (Council's) term ends by the end of this month, we will approach the courts before that,"

said JC Madhuswamy.

The Cabinet also discussed the need to increase the number of zones from eight to 15. "More regions will be brought under the BBMP while increasing the number of wards. BBMP zones will be increased to 15 and areas will be marked under each zone. One Commissioner will be appointed for each zone," Maduswamy said.

The joint select committee will consider proposals to apply geographic area as well as population density as parameters for redrawing of wards. "There are suggestions that parameters should be flexible to accommodate densely populated areas like Basavangudi or Gandhi Nagar, or sparsely populated regions where the geographical region will be huge," the minister added.

NLSIU to hold entrance exam, no CLAT scores

Applications open till September 10

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

THE National Law School of India University (NLSIU) Bengaluru has decided to hold a separate entrance examination for 120 seats for its B.A., LL.B and LL.M programmes for the academic year 2020-21. This is a departure from its usual admissions through the all-India Common Law Admission Test (CLAT), due to the pandemic.

All applications must be submitted online at <https://admissions.nls.ac.in/>

The university announced on Thursday that applications were open till the midnight of September 10. Students seeking admission to NLSIU must apply directly to the university and complete the NLAT UG 2020 entrance examination. The University will not accept CLAT 2020 scores for admission to academic year 2020-21, the admissions notice by the institute stated.

"We are fully committed to ensuring that no student is denied the opportunity to study at NLSIU this academic year. Hence, NLSIU is compelled by the current circumstances to conduct a separate admissions process for the B.A., LL.B and LL.M programmes for the academic year 2020-21," the university notice said.

This change is due to the academic structure -- trimester system -- of the top law institute of the country, which puts it at a particular disadvantage if CLAT is postponed, and the institute could even run the risk of having a 'zero year' if admissions are not completed before the end of September.

In a trimester, every academic year is made up of three terms of 90 days. Each term must accommodate 60 hours of classroom instruction in each course. In addition, it must adequately provide for examination and evaluation processes.

The third, fourth and fifth year of the B.A., LL.B programme as well as LL.M programme is fully integrated, and needs a common calendar.

At a faculty meeting on August 6, it was unanimously resolved that NLSIU needed to take all measures to avoid a zero year. This was followed up by two rounds of meetings by the Executive Council of the University on August 12 and 18, which authorised the university to develop an alternative admission process in the event that CLAT 2020 was not conducted on September 7.

Meanwhile, the Executive Committee of the Consortium of National Law Universities, on August 28 announced that CLAT will be postponed from September 7 to September 28.

A faculty sub-committee formed to develop a revised admission procedure concluded that an online common entrance test, and with low application fee would be a fair.

Busy Baiyappanahalli terminal likely to get new four-lane road

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IN a bid to handle the massive congestion that could set in once the Baiyappanahalli Third Coaching Terminal is opened, a plan to convert the existing narrow road connecting the two sides of the terminal into a four-lane road, has been proposed. It would link both the sides, making it convenient for passengers to reach their destinations from the station.

Speaking to TNIE, a senior railway official said that the Chief Secretary -- who visited the terminal for inspection on Saturday -- has asked the BBMP to construct a road here to handle expected passenger traffic in future.

A senior BBMP official confirmed this development, saying, "The four-lane road, with a width of 18 metres, will connect Mukunda Theatre on Banaswadi Main Road and Old Madras Road. It'll run to a length of 2.2 km. With the station in the middle, both ends will be connected."

The existing road is quite narrow and it leads from Baiyappanahalli village to the Old Madras Road, he added.

Another senior railway official said that the Railways expects daily footfalls to touch around one lakh, once the terminal becomes fully functional. "We are targeting completion of the terminal by October-end, but it could take a little longer too. This road, however, is crucial for decongesting the traffic here."

Asked about the timeline, another BBMP official mentioned it could take long. "Land needs to be acquired first for the roads. The Railway Over Bridge above Mukunda Theatre has to be widened and much infrastructure work needs to be carried out at Baiyappanahalli village as well. Defence land needs to be asked for again, in order to widen the Old Madras Road," he added.

400 passengers per train

SHANKAR said that from September 7 onwards, 91 trips will be run on the Purple Line and 97 trips will be run on the Green Line from September 9. "With a maximum of 400 passengers per train, we do not expect the patronage to cross 80,000 per day until September 11 as we will run only for six hours per day," he said.

However, this will go up when trains will run from 7 am to 9 pm, he added.

Metro staff deputised for Covid-19 duties across the city have been recalled and Home Guards have been called for a training programme on Friday, a Metro source said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

04th September: Some people think that astrology can't work because it is impossible for an object as far away as a planet to have any connection with life on Earth. In fact, scientists now believe that the tiny particles which make up our bodies can be linked to stars which are billions of miles away on the other side of the universe. It's called 'entanglement' - and it's nothing to do with gravity!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

Financially you may feel you're on a winner, but keep your own counsel and be very wary indeed of friends who come up with bright ideas. Social costs are likely to spiral over the next two weeks, and you may have to act fast to avoid paying for something which is nothing to do with you.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

For quite some time you appear to have buried your head in the sand as far as one or two personal situations are concerned. With lunar influences so strong today, this could be a good moment to lift your head above the parapet and say what you think.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

For once your lively and controversial tongue may be stilled. In fact, it would do you a power of good to stop and consider all personal matters, especially family arrangements. The last thing you want to do now is reveal something which ought to be kept under wraps.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

If you have anything to get off your chest you should do so today, especially if friends are involved. Only if money is an issue may you prevaricate and put off the big day until tomorrow. Plus, of course, you don't want to offend someone that you rely on!

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

You are being pulled in two directions. But which way should you jump? As far as anyone can see, you have done an extremely good job of standing your ground and, for that, you deserve full respect. Do yourself a favour and sort out a cash question sooner rather than later.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sept 23)

This is an extraordinarily helpful day, even though it may be that the only matters you have to deal with are rather insignificant. If you have not yet bridged the gulf with a friend, do so today. And, if you have fallen out with someone, how about an apology?

LIBRA (Sept 24 - Oct 23)

It could be an extravagant day, and the only reason for caution could be if you are spending other people's money. In love you need physical affection and reassurance and, at work, you should be considering promotion. It's about time that your true talents were appreciated.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

It's an ideal moment to hold out the hand of friendship, even to people who in the past have been rivals rather than supporters. It would also be very useful to take a little financial advice before you are pushed into a corner and make an embarrassing loss.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 22)

A whole host of planets passing through challenging regions of your chart means that you must let other people seize the initiative. This is not obligatory, but if you try to take the lead yourself it may rebound on you, perhaps because you'll overlook certain fundamental details.

CAPRICORN (Dec 23 - Jan 20)

You simply have to buy time in personal and romantic matters. You may continue to do your best, to make new friends, or to enjoy a current relationship, but you should realise that there are still many changes on the way. And, when they come, you might have to rethink certain long-term plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

There are periods when you need to spend a little more time at home or dealing with important family issues. This is one of them, so hopefully relations will play ball. In love the lesson is that relationships need to be worked at - no effort should be spared!

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

You will be able to express yourself with skill and precision, not to say poetic imagination. This is therefore an excellent moment to appeal to other people, persuading them that they must do what you say! But will you succeed? Well, yes - at least part of the time.

WILL Karnataka assembly take a cue from Parliament and drop Question Hour during its session between September 21 and 30? The cabinet on Thursday decided to leave it to the Business Advisory Committee on the first day of the session.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J C Madhuswamy said that for now, regular procedures of submitting questions are being allowed. At a time the opposition has been criticising the government for attempting to introduce too many bills leaving no time for debates, the minister said that some 30 bills, including 18-20 ordinance replacement bills, will have to be presented in the upcoming assembly session. "We are compelled to introduce the ordinance replacement bills. There are some 30 bills in all and we will discuss what can be introduced and what can wait in the BAC," he said. The agenda and calendar for the session will be issued before this weekend.

sheds for Agriculture Resilience through Innovative Development (REWARD)' with the help of the World Bank. The project will be implemented over 10 lakh hectares in low groundwater level taluhs in 20 districts over the next six years.

The cabinet gave post-facto approval for a 2019 directive to open LKG and UKG in 276 government primary schools. A sum of Rs 35 crore was approved to adopt digital learning infrastructure for students of first grade, polytechnic and engineering colleges. Administrative approval has been provided for construction of new medical colleges at Haveri and Yadgir with assistance from the Centre.

Approval for bills to replace the recent ordinances amending the APMC act, GST act and several others, like the Karnataka Epidemic Diseases Ordinance, 2020 were the other decisions.

Floods: State to seek Rs 4,800 crore, Central team to visit on Monday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE State Government plans to seek Rs 4,800 crore from the Central government as relief for the damage caused by the floods in Karnataka two weeks ago, Revenue Minister R Ashok said on Thursday.

Talking to reporters after attending the State Disaster Management Authority meeting, Ashok said the government would submit a memorandum to the Central assessment team which will visit the State next week.

Ashok said he had visited 10 flood-hit affected districts so far. "We also did an aerial survey of these districts along with Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa. We had written a letter to the Central government to send a team to assess the damage. A team of six will arrive on September 7," he said.

The team will meet with the chief minister the day of arrival in the state, and then visit the affected areas including Kodagu, Belagavi, Vijayapura and Bagalkot. "Earlier, we had sought Rs 4,000 crore but now we have increased it to Rs 4,800 crore. This is not final amount," he said.

He also said that the Union government is releasing funds in phases and that Rs 395 crore has already been released.

"Apart from this, they have sent four helicopters and nine NDRF teams. We are preparing the loss estimate and listing the damages to bring out a booklet which will be submitted to the Centre," he said.

Heavy rains and increased release of water from dams caused flooding in many districts across the State. Kodagu and Belagavi districts were among the worst hit. Incessant rainfall across the Western Ghat region around the Karnataka-Maharashtra border and overflowing rivers had wreaked havoc in several parts of the Mumbai-Karnataka region in the Krishna river basin and led to inundation of several villages, bridges, roads and farm land. In Kodagu, heavy rains triggered massive landslides.

Don't blame God, give jobs, says Cong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

OPPOSITION leader Siddaramaiah slammed the State and central governments on Thursday for the economic challenges the people are facing.

The Centre attributing revenue loss to GST implementation and the global pandemic was incorrect, he said, saying that policy issues are also responsible for the current state of economic affairs.

The Centre cannot cite an "act of God" to avoid paying GST dues, Siddaramaiah said. He criticised Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, saying he "lacks the courage" to fight injustice, and instead, has compromised and accepted the Rs 97,000-crore formula. "Does this mean he is willing to forego the additional fund gap, which is pictured as loss due to the pandemic, and betray Kannadigas?" the former Chief Minister asked.

He said the Narendra Modi government should raise loans to compensate the GST gap and honour its commitment to the states.

Meanwhile, Indian Youth Congress national president B V Srinivas said the Congress would hit the roads with protests against unemployment. They would "seek jobs" before the houses of ministers and parliamentarians, he said, adding that many young people are resorting to suicide because they have no jobs.

Pointing out that over 60 per cent of the youth are unemployed, he warned that a national protest would begin from Karnataka, to give jobs to people.

Prajwal's affidavit: EC seeks report from DC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hassan

FORMER minister and BJP leader A Manju said he will take up the alleged submission of a false affidavit by MP Prajwal Revanna during the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, to its logical end.

Addressing media persons here on Thursday, Manju said the State Election Commission recently directed the deputy commissioner, who is also election returning officer, to verify the documents submitted along with the affidavit and file a report within a week.

Manju, in his complaint, stated that Prajwal al had submitted false bank balance statements, incomplete I-T returns and undervalued assets and properties in the affidavit.

He urged the deputy commissioner to take steps following the direction of the state election commission and submit a report soon.

Manju, who had unsuccessfully contested against Prajwal, said he is confident of getting justice on the lines of the State Election Commission of Maharashtra which disqualified the membership of an MLA for allegedly furnishing false affidavit a couple of years ago.

LANGUAGE AS IDENTITY AND SOCIO-ECONOMIC MOBILITY

English Access Program among Tribal Children of KISS

TUSHAR SENAPATI

Language is an instrument of social and economic upward mobility. For Indian society, English language has gained traction due to its global outreach. In the age of globalization, English language is a skill and it has started playing a pivotal role in getting gainful employment. For tribal children it is an additional language to learn and to get benefit to erase the middlemen siphoning profits from tribal economy. They can, if know calculations and English language then reap the benefit of their produce. Also, to become social entrepreneur, for instance, to open a tamarind processing unit. KISS has been imparting mother tongue based multilingual education for conservation and preservation of tribal language and culture. In addition, The English Access program is a flagship endeavor to benefit tribal student's listening, speaking and reading skills of students.

The English Access Microscholarship Program (Access Program) is an exciting initiative of the U.S. Department of State. The program is being implemented at KISS since 2009, more than a decade, under the dynamic leadership of its Founder Prof. Achyuta Samanta.

Consequently, it has been implementing 6th Program and treated as the best program being run by any NGO. KISS has got also highest number of times getting this program. This highly effective training program is designed to provide a significant English-language learning experience to bright non-elite 13 to 20-year-old students. It also has the goal of improving students' appreciation of U.S. culture and values, encouraging critical thinking and open-mindedness, and improving performance in regular school classes. A comparative analysis is also done between Indian tribals and Native Americans. In KISS, the program provides a foundation of English language skills to 950 talented indigenous students.

Several innovative teaching aids have been prepared to motivate the students to shed off their fear and learn the language. The Access Program has also helped build their personality. The framework adopted includes oral-aural, learner-centered and activity-based approach. The activities undertaken to fulfill the aim include project work, activities that promote reading with comprehension, quiz, role-play, skits, dialogue, dramatization, discussion, debate, language games, simulating, real life situation, using newspaper clipping, multimedia, using internet, movies, music, riddles and puzzles, pair work and group work. Enhancement activities in the form of exposure visits to shopping Malls, Airport, Planetarium, Nandanakan Zoo, Tribal Museum, cyclone affected areas for community service etc. are also adopted.

Tribal children are at disadvantaged position as compared to others when foreign language is taught. They have to learn their own language, language of the state, national language and English language for higher education. Tribal English Access students have not only been able to communicate but also have performed in English Plays, Skit, Songs, Mock Assembly, Anchoring when national and international dignitaries visit KISS which include Academicians, Corporate leaders, Writers, Activists, Legislators, Magsaysay award winners, Diplomats from various countries including United States of America etc. They also shared their feelings after being enrolled in Access Program and how it has changed his/her life. This had a spillover effect in raising the performance in their regular academic activity. Many of our English Access tribal students have been successful in joining specialized higher education like Law, Engineering (B.Tech), Medicine (MBBS), Diploma in various engineering trades and Social Sciences. It is unprecedented in the tribal history that the benefit of Access program has touched students even from Particularly vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTGs) Tribes consequentially acquiring higher studies that needs a high degree of English proficiency. Largely Access Program in KISS has curbed the further alienation and has contributed to enrichment of Tribal children's skill set.

Hence an amalgamation of Tribal language, Indigenous Know-How, lifeworld and cultural moorings are brought to classroom and then convergence takes place with Modern Know-how. Modern Know-how eradicates superstitions and imbues rationality and reason. The tribal indigenous Knowledge system is very rich from which practices can be drawn for sustainable development. Tribal societies are more egalitarian and language gap has to be filled for justice. Language can be a medium for claiming rights and justice.

GP polls: Not more than 5 for campaign

State Election Commission issues SOPs for elections to be held in the next couple of months

GP POLL RESERVATION LIST POLITICALLY DONE: DEVE GOWDA

Bengaluru: Former Prime Minister and JDS Supremo H D Deve Gowda said the Gram Panchayat election reservation list is politically done and the JDS will fight against it in the coming days. Deve Gowda along with former Chief Minister H D Kumaraswamy interacted with JDS leaders and district and taluk presidents from Kalyana Karnataka region through a video conference on Thursday. He told them that the party has to gear up to contest in the Gram Panchayat elections. He urged them to build the party during election time in a systematic way. "The reservation for Panchayat elections has been announced. The list is prepared politically and is made against JDS," he added. Speaking to The New Indian Express, MLA Bandedra Kashempur said this government has changed the reservation favouring their party. Wherever JDS has an upper hand, the reservation has changed, he alleged.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN preparation for the Gram Panchayat elections, to be held in the next couple of months, the Karnataka State Election Commission (SEC) has issued Standard Operating Procedures which mainly stress on maintaining social distance, virtual campaigning and also door-to-door campaigns not involving more than five people at a time.

In the detailed SOPs, the SEC has mandated wearing of masks at polling booths as well as during campaigns. Voters should use sanitiser before entering polling booths and undergo thermal screening and polling should be conducted in bigger rooms. Nomination forms of candidates and other documents should be stored in disinfected rooms, entry to which should be restricted, it said.

During the filing of nomination, a candidate can be accompanied by only one person and they should maintain a distance of six feet from the Returning Officers. If a Covid-infected person plans to contest, he can send his nomination papers through a nominee to the Returning Officer.

Since the geographical area of a gram panchayats is smaller, a candidate can conduct door-to-door campaign, but cannot have more than five people, including himself, in the team. All those campaigning should wear masks and gloves and should not stand in crowds. Also, no loudspeakers can be used during the campaign, the SEC said. Candidates have been advised to make use of electronic media for campaigning and contestants with Covid-19 cannot undertake outdoor campaigning.

The SEC has also limited the number of voters at each polling booth to 1,000. The polling booths should be sanitised with 1 per cent

POINTS TO NOTE

- If candidate is Covid-positive, he/she cannot undertake outdoor campaign, but can opt for virtual campaign
- Each polling booth will have a maximum of 1,000 voters
- No procession of winning candidate allowed on the day of results sodium hypochlorite solution before voters are allowed in. On election day, polling officers should wear masks, face shields and gloves and should sanitise their hands.

Voters without masks will not be allowed to exercise their franchise. They should maintain social distancing while standing in queue. Those who are in hospital or home quarantine will be allowed cast their vote through postal ballot.

DRUG PEDDLING

Police arrest friend of popular actress

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Central Crime Branch (CCB) on Thursday made the first arrest in the case related to the drug peddling racket in Sandalwood. Ravi Shankar (40), a second division assistant in Regional Transport Office, is a friend of Sandalwood actress Ragini Dwivedi.

Sandeep Patil, Joint Commissioner of Police (Crime) said, "Ravi has been arrested after we found him to be involved in drug peddling. He has been taken into police custody for five days."

A senior officer said Ravi used to get a salary of around Rs 40,000 but was leading a lavish life and was regularly attending parties with celebrities. As he was close to Ragini, he got to know other people in Sandalwood. Police are also questioning Rahul Shetty, a real estate businessman, who is close to another actor. The officials have also detained another person identified as Karthik Raj, who runs a hotel, and is said to be close to a Sandalwood actress.

An officer said they will issue a notice to the Sandalwood actors and others if they are involved in drug peddling or consuming. Ragini had been served a second notice to appear before the police but she has sought time till Monday morning.

Student bus pass subsidy to continue after schools reopen: Govt officials

PREEJA PRASAD @Bengaluru

WITH rumours abuzz about student pass subsidies being cancelled for 2020-21, the All India Democratic Student Organisation (AIDSO) had decided to organise a protest on September 8. However, The New Indian Express found there was no official statement from the officials.

As of now, the issuance is on hold as schools and colleges are closed. "There is no confirmation on this from the government. Once, schools and colleges reopen, passes will be given out," said Principal Secretary of Transport Anjum Parwez.

Transport Minister Laxman Savadi on Wednesday clarified that the government has no intention to increase the bus pass rates. "I request parents and students to not be anxious over fares. No decision has been made regarding the same," he said in a statement. The Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation officials also confirmed the same. "Subsidies have always been maintained by the Finance Department and not by the state transport corporations. So far, there has been no discussion on holding back subsidies," the official told TNIE.

The Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) has also denied any such move. "There have been news reports stating that we had referred the matter to the Transport department and that it was denied by the government due to lack of funds. But it is related to the Finance department and no order has been issued to us," said a KSRTC official.

CRIME PATROL

Officials raid train at KSR station

Acting on a tip-off on smuggling of drugs into Bengaluru via trains, the Narcotics Control Bureau on Wednesday night conducted surprise checks in the Sanghamithra Express after it reached KSR Railway Station. However, they could not find anything. A senior railway official confirmed the development. ENS

3 held for carrying DeMon notes

City Market police on Thursday arrested three men from Kadapa for possession of demonetised currency. While two of the suspects, Dastagir and Kumar, are in the gold jewellery business, Mastan is a driver. Police said they had come to Bengaluru to purchase gold in the black market. ENS

Elderly woman killed during burglary

Bengaluru: Two people, including an elderly woman, were murdered in two separate incidents in the city. Kanthamma (73), was alone in her house in RS Palya in Bansawadi when unidentified people entered her house on Wednesday, attacked her with a blunt weapon and stole gold valuables worth around Rs 5 lakh. She was found dead by her daughter Manjula when she returned home around 2pm. In the second incident, a carpenter named Jai Hind Yadav (31), was allegedly attacked by his roommates. His body, found floating in Rayasandra lake on Tuesday morning, had stab wounds on the face and neck. Police said Jai's roommates Rohit Sharma and Sanjay Chawan allegedly killed him over financial dispute on August 30, tied a stone to his waist and disposed the body in Rayasandra Lake. When Jai, a resident of Rayasandra and a native of Uttar Pradesh, could not be reached over the phone, his brother-in-law Kapil Dev Yadav went to his room. Yadav's roommates told Kapil that Jai had fought with them over financial matters and left the house on August 30, after which Kapil filed a complaint with the police. ENS

Retired Naxal leader Ganapathi is not surrendering: CPI (Maoist)

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

CONTRARY to reports in a section of the media, top Maoist leader Muppala Lakshmana Rao (74) alias Ganapathi, is not surrendering, according to the central committee of the banned extremist Left wing outfit, Communist Party of India (Maoist).

Strongly reacting to media reports on Ganapathi's surrender, the outfit issued a press release on Thursday, stating that he is their senior leader and will never surrender to the police.

The release said that the CPI (Maoist) blames the Central and Chhattisgarh governments for planting stories in the media against the top Naxal leadership to defame the movement. Ganapathi had voluntarily retired as general secretary of the CPI (Maoist) in November 2018 due to health issues, it added. TNIE spoke to Sundarraj P, Inspector General of Police, Bastar range, Chhattisgarh. He said that it would make no difference to the security forces if Ganapathi did not surrender. "The Naxal movement in the country is on the decline. There has been no cadre recruitment in the last one decade. Geographically, the Maoists have lost large stretches of areas, which they had claimed as liberated. The government has accelerated development in Naxal-affected areas in every field -- from education and health to infrastructure and employment. Barring some pockets, Naxals are losing control because they don't have people's support," said the Bastar IGP.

According to the Chhattisgarh police, Ganapathi, along with some senior Maoist leaders, takes shelter in "security vacuum" areas or interstate borders -- from the forested areas of Narayanpur, Bijapur and Dantewada districts in

One Maoist killed in Kothagudem forest area

Khammam: A member of the 'action team' of the banned CPI (Maoist) party was gunned down in an exchange of fire with the police in Devallagudem and Dubbagudem forest areas in Gundala mandal of Bhadrachalam Kothagudem district in the wee hours of Thursday.

Abhujmarh to pockets between Malkangiri in Odisha and Sukma in Chhattisgarh, or between Andhra Pradesh and Odisha border areas.

The top Maoist leadership in Karnataka has also not come forward to accept the State surrender and rehabilitation policy for Naxalites after 2017, said placed sources. "They are wary of the long jail term after the surrender of their three cadres -- Kanyakumari alias Suvarna, her husband Shivu alias Gnana-deva, and another Naxal associate Chenamma in June 2017 in Chikkamagaluru. Kanyakumari was arrested over multiple criminal cases -- of illegal possession of arms, dacoity, murder, attempt to murder in Karnataka and Kerala -- which are pending against her and was placed in judicial custody. She has a small child and has to travel frequently between the two states for her trial in those cases," said an official source. She continues to be in judicial custody while Shivu and Chenamma were let off.

COVISHIELD VACCINE REACHES CHENNAI

Doses to be given to 300 health workers who volunteered for it

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

COVISHIELD vaccine developed by Oxford University reached Chennai on Thursday for phase two clinical trials.

The news comes on a day when the city reported a slight dip in fresh cases with 968 people testing positive. The State recorded 5,892 cases and 92 deaths, taking up the tally to 4,45,851 and toll to 7,608.

According to officials of the Health Department, the vaccine will be tested on 300 health volunteers above the age of 18 at Rajiv Gandhi Government General Hospital and Sri Ramachandra Institute of Higher Education and Research, Porur, as part of multi-centric study in India.

Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami had issued orders for the trial last month. Director of Public Health T S Selvavinayagam will be the principal investigator for the project.

Health Minister C Vijayabaskar, in a press release earlier, had said that studies have shown the vaccine triggering T-Cell response within 14 days of vaccination, and an antibody response within 28 days. T-Cells are white blood cells that can attack the infected cells. After the successful phase two and three clinical trials, the vaccine would be brought to public use, Vijayabaskar had said.

The vaccine, developed in collaboration with AstraZeneca, is considered one of the most promising candidates undergoing phase-3 trials in some other countries.

The Phase two trials of the vaccine began in India last month.

Pune's Serum Institute of India, which has an agreement with AstraZeneca to produce and market the vaccine in India and many other countries, had initiated human trials.

The news of trials brings a ray of hope on a day when, in a disturbing trend, Coimbatore reported 593 cases and Cuddalore recorded 590 cases. A media bulletin said Chengalpattu recorded 378 cases, Kancheepuram 150 and Tiruvallur 258 cases. The State also tested 82,901 samples and 80,864 people on the day. Among the deceased, nine didn't have comorbidities.

Odisha CM reviews Covid situation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhubaneswar

CHIEF Minister Naveen Patnaik on Thursday asked the health and family welfare department and officials engaged in Covid-19 management to chalk out strategy to contain the coronavirus pandemic in Khurda and Cuttack in view of the spurt in positive cases in these two districts.

According to officials sources, 3631 new cases were reported in Odisha during the last 24 hours out of which Khordha and Cuttack districts accounted for 722 and 370 cases respectively. Bhubaneswar city reported a record 370 cases.

The Chief Minister said that Odisha has so far conducted more than 20 lakh tests which is 42,404 per 10 lakh and better than the national average. The recovery rate in Odisha stands at 76.78 percent while the death rate is only 0.46 percent, he said.

Stating that monsoon rains, flood and normalisation of transport activities have created new challenges for Covid-19 management in Odisha, the Chief Minister said that strategy to contain the virus should be chalked out keeping all these things in view. He asked the Covid observers to visit the flood affected areas and provide relief to eligible beneficiaries.

'Imposter forged CM Pinarayi's signature'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @TPuram

CHIEF Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's office, which has been facing criticism after his principal secretary M Sivasankar's links with gold smuggling accused Swapna Suresh, found itself in the centre of another controversy on Thursday. Citing files signed by the chief minister on September 9, 2018, when he was away for medical treatment in the US from September 2 to 23, the BJP alleged that outsiders were ruling the state by forging the CM's signature.

Pinarayi dismissed the allegations saying "it's my signature" and it was digitally signed. He added "the BJP came up with the allegation to create a cloud of smoke on things it was not aware of".

BJP state spokesperson Sandeep Warriar, who came up with the allegation, said the file pertaining to the Malayalam Language Day celebrations was signed by Pinarayi's imposter.

Warrior said the incident showed the CMO was controlled by Sivasankar or Swapna. While Warriar demanded Pinarayi's resignation, BJP state president K Surendran asked the CM to clarify who forged the signature.

"The CM was at Mayo Clinic in the US during this period and returned by the end of the month. It is not a digital signature either," said Sandeep.

45 of top 100 COMED-K rankers from Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

ALTOGETHER 45 out of the top 100 rank holders of the Consortium of Medical, Engineering and Dental Colleges of Karnataka (COMED-K) examination were candidates from Karnataka.

Furthermore, of the first 10 ranks, two of them, Rakshit M (first rank) and Shadan Hussain (seventh rank), are candidates from Bengaluru.

COMED-K conducted an online examination on August 19, across 300 centres for engineering programmes which offer around 20,000 seats for the current academic year.

A total of 346 engineering aspirants out of 1,000 rank holders are from Karnataka whereas the remaining 654 are from different States of the Country.

Rank cards of the eligible candidates are available on the COMED-K website www.comedk.org

Digilocker verification problematic

The consortium mandated that aspirants have to upload the scanned documents through their respective IDs and not digilocker. The documents will then be verified by a panel of expert verification officers.

As per them, the process of digilocker verification appears to be problematic because many states have not uploaded the details of the candidates.

Further, without verification they just endorse the documents referred to them.

High Court halts felling of trees for Byramangala lake channel work

Bengaluru: Restraining authorities from felling trees for the Rs 108-crore project being undertaken by the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNL) to construct a diversion weir channel to the Byramangala Tank in Ramanaagara taluk to reduce the pollution level by changing the path of Vishabhavathi River, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday said that all further work is subjected to the result of the order to be passed by the court. "Apart from the petitioner's allegations, we have to deal with the issue on the basis of precautionary principles," a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreenivas Oka and Justice Hemant Chandangoudar said after hearing a PIL filed by Bangalore Environment Trust and others against the project. The bench said the petitioner challenged the State's decision on November 23, 2018 to give administrative approval to the proposal of CNL for constructing the channel. ENS

Largest Tibetan settlements in K'taka

THE minimum recruitment age is 18 years and minimum qualification is Class 10. Many of our youngsters look forward to being recruited in the SFF. The SFF Association holds an annual prayer meet at Dharamsala to seek the blessings of His Holiness the Dalai Lama," added Chopel Thupten.

Karnataka has the world's largest Tibetan settlements. Living in exile, they are spread across five settlements in the state -- two at Bylakuppe and one at Hunsur in Mysuru district, one each at Mundgod in Karwar district and Kollegal in Chamarajanagar district.

The SFF was raised on November 14, 1962 and the first cadres were drawn from the Khampas (people of Kham region in Tibet, which is under the Chinese occupation), who were the original bodyguards of the Dalai Lama. The primary function of SFF was to conduct covert operations behind Chinese lines in the event of another Indo-China war. The hardened recruits of the Tibetan guerrilla unit were trained as high-altitude paratroop commandos by the Indian Army.

The SFF comes under the purview of the Cabinet Secretariat. It is headed by an Inspector General, who is an Army officer of the rank of Major General. The SFF has been used for selective and highly sensitive military operations such as 'Operation Eagle' (to secure the Chittagong Hills in the 1971 Indo-Pak war), 'Operation Bluestar' (to clear the Golden Temple in 1984), 'Operation Meghdoot' (to secure the Siachen Glacier in 1984) and 'Operation Vijay' (at Kargil in 1999).

Financial aid up to Rs 3 crore for IT hubs

UNDER the new IT policy, a host of subsidies and incentives are being offered to industries outside Zone-3 (Bengaluru Rural and Urban) including financial assistance up to Rs 3 crore for IT hubs and clusters, assistance of Rs 2 crore for co-working spaces or plug-and-play infrastructure, reimbursement on lease/rental up to Rs 3 lakh (at the rate of Rs 10 per sqft) or Rs 6 lakh (at the rate of Rs 1,000 per seat), quality certification cost reimbursement up to Rs 6 lakh, marketing cost reimbursement of up to Rs 5 lakh per entity, reimbursement of PF/ESI up to Rs 10 lakh per company, patents cost reimbursement of Rs 2 lakh for domestic and Rs 10 lakh for international patent.

"We are expecting the IT industry to grow from $52 billion to $300 billion by 2025. We will spend around Rs 2000 crore in the ESDM sector. We will directly be spending about Rs 102 crore on the IT policy, excluding stamp duty and power tariff concession," said Deputy Chief Minister and Minister for IT & BT Dr C N Ashwath Narayan.

Exemption on stamp duty up to 75 per cent will be given for industries which will be set up in Mysuru, Hubballi, Dharwad and Mangaluru. For all other zones outside Bengaluru Urban and Rural, stamp duty will be exempted completely. Concessional power tariff, R&D support in the form of matching grants (in collaboration with industry) of up to a maximum of 33% of the total project R&D cost, up to Rs 1 crore, are other features of the IT policy.

In a bid to attract Electronics System Design and Manufacturing (ESDM) companies moving out of China, the Karnataka Government has announced additional incentives for industries willing to set up shop here. The state has announced 25 per cent capital investment subsidy on land for industries outside Bengaluru Urban and Bengaluru Rural districts for land area up to 50 acres on procurement costs.

"This is exclusively to attract investments in ESDM sector. To compete with other states, we had to additionally incentivise it over and above incentives offered by the Centre. We are bringing in solar modules too because we are looking at clean tech since it has a similar ESDM ecosystem. We can add value to reduce carbon footprint," said Meena Nagaraj C N, Director, IT & BT.

Cop turns teacher for migrant children in Bengaluru

PEARL MARIA DSOUZA @Bengaluru

EACH morning at 7, as many as 30 children from a hamlet in Nagarbhatti gather at an open space to learn from their friendly neighbour, a 30-year old police teacher.

From what states you cover when travelling from Bengaluru to Delhi to who is the Chief Minister of Karnataka, children of migrant labourers are being taught life skills, general knowledge and Vedic Math by Shanthappa Jademmnavar, sub-inspector of Annapoorneshwari Nagar.

"My duty starts at 8.30am, so I teach them for an hour from 7 am," he told TNIE. Primary and Secondary Education Minister S Suresh Kumar who paid a visit to the class on Thursday, lauded Shanthappa.

"These children do not have a tab, television or access to online/distance classes. Some of the families in the hamlet have a feature phone, a few have smartphones, but even to charge that there is just a single point access and is a hassle. The area where they live has no electricity," Shanthappa said.

teachers to students' locations also failed here. "There is a lack of proper coordination between the teachers and children who are enrolled in government schools. Teachers call the children to the park and children do not know which park or location to go to," he said, admitting that students have been missing out on regular classes.

Following the minister's visit though, Shanthappa saw some ray of hope for the children's education. "Benefactors have offered to buy books, bags and pens for the children," he said.

"For now, I offer an incentive of a chocolate or a geometry box to students who complete their homework," he added.

Talking about the plight of the children, he said the migrant families are living in a cramped space with no electricity or water or no provisions stores around.

Shanthappa, who had visited the residences of the children, had to reach out to the parents to allow him to teach the children. "I told them how important education was to get their children a better living. They agreed," he added, recalling that he too was a migrant labourer, after having lost his father two decades ago.

KAHEEL KHAN CASE A LITMUS TEST FOR BUREAUCRATIC REFORM

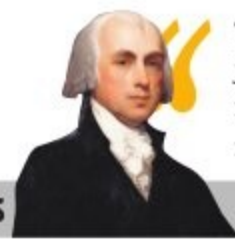

The Allahabad High Court's order quashing the detention of outspoken Dr Kafeel Khan under the National Security Act was a slap on the face of the UP administration that had him imprisoned for months. While the local district magistrate (DM) Chandra Bhushan Singh invoked the NSA citing a 'provocative' speech Dr Khan delivered at the Bab-e-Syed gate of the Aligarh Muslim University against the Citizenship Amendment Act last year, the court found nothing objectionable in the address. Instead, the Bench said the speech actually gave a call for national integrity. It hauled the DM over the coals for his selective reading of the address, ignoring its true intent. The administration used every dilatory tactic, the Bench pointed out, like providing radiograms of the extension of his detention under the NSA without giving him a hard copy of the order that would have enabled him to seek judicial redress. Besides, to satisfy the Constitutional mandate that a detainee must be provided adequate material to seek relief at the earliest, Dr Khan was given a compact disk of his AMU speech but without an instrument to play it! Neither was he given a copy of the speech's transcript. The NSA was invoked against him by the DM in February, days after a local court granted him bail following his arrest in late December at the Mumbai airport.

Incidentally, the court's decision came a day before the Union Cabinet cleared an ambitious plan to reform the bureaucracy and build capacity to make government employees "more creative, proactive, professional and technology-enabled". But would that training reform the likes of the Aligarh DM, who clearly had an axe to grind against Dr Khan? Politicisation of the bureaucracy is the elephant in the room. Reforms that sidestep political meddling cannot fully repair the nation's steel frame, which is how Sardar Patel had described the civil services. The DM apparently invoked the NSA because people can be detained under it without charges for up to 12 months. His abuse of the draconian law reignited the debate on whether it should exist at all in a progressive democracy. After all the opprobrium, the UP government ought to take action against the DM; else it could be accused of being his instigator. Will it?

ENDING KERALA CULTURE OF POLITICAL KILLINGS

The murder of two Domestic Youth Federation of India (DYFI) activists in Thiruvananthapuram on the eve of Onam has underscored the brutal side of Kerala's political culture, where ideologies are worth killing for and rivalries are often settled by spilling blood. There have been many such killings in the past and there will be more, precisely because the parties here have mastered murder as an effective political tool. At every opportunity, there will be murder, and every murder is an opportunity. As expected, the killing of the young DYFI men has triggered a blame game with the ruling CPM pointing accusing fingers at the opposition Congress. A CPM minister has alleged the involvement of a senior Congress MP. Just a year ago, it was the CPM's turn to stand in the dock when two Youth Congress workers were hacked to death at Periyar in Kasaragod.

The fact is none of the political parties in Kerala can claim the moral high ground in the matter of using murder to settle political scores and reap electoral dividends. All are active participants and beneficiaries of this endless chain of killings, retribution and politically motivated violence. The harsh truth is while parties use this murder-retaliation cycle to intimidate rivals and accumulate martyrs to be celebrated and paraded to gain sympathy and votes, no one really mourns the precious lives lost in this dangerous game that political bosses play using indoctrinated footsoldiers. With local body and Assembly elections looming, the twin murders are certainly going to be part of the political discourse for some time. While it's imperative that a fair investigation is conducted and the culprits are brought to book at the earliest, the political parties must take this as an opportunity to introspect—to see what's wrong with their politics and the way they practice it. Violence can only beget violence. It may suit their requirements but they must understand that the politics of murder has no place in a democracy and the people are tired of their ways. The chain must be broken, and the right time to do that is now.

The accumulation of all powers, legislative, executive, and judiciary, in the same hands, whether of one, a few, or many, and whether hereditary, self-appointed, or elective, may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny

The ongoing tussle over GST compensation to states is not the first challenge to federalism in recent times. It only accentuates a worrying trend

WHEN CENTRE AND STATES CAN'T DANCE TOGETHER

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author

Arguably, federalism or the relationship between the Centre and the states is at its lowest point in recent decades. The ongoing tussle over the Goods and Services Tax (GST) compensation accentuates a rather worrying trend. If one were to make a metaphor from the story of Onam, a festival that has just passed, then the Centre has imagined and inflated itself to be a Vamana, and is looking for its three steps to deflate Mahabali, which here would mean the states.

Look at the growing rustle of words around the GST compensation. Kerala's finance minister, Thomas Isaac, the most vocal, tweeted: "No state with atmanirbhar [perhaps he meant self-respect more than self-sufficiency] can accept this. Enough is enough." West Bengal Finance Minister Amit Mitra was sharp when he said it was not an 'act of God' as Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had described it, but an 'act of fraud'. Finance ministers of states like Punjab, Delhi, Chhattisgarh, Telangana, Rajasthan and Maharashtra spoke in terms of 'betrayal' and 'double standards'. Former prime minister H D Deve Gowda, who heads a regional party, also weighed in: "To ask the states to borrow is a skewed idea," he said. He also warned that the states and the Centre being at loggerheads all too frequently did not augur well for our well-being as a nation. Suddenly, the one nation, one tax idea was leading to a seditious impulse. Federalism itself seemed to be in crisis.

A little before the GST issue came up, there was more that challenged federalism. DMK leader Kanimozhi brought up the Hindi mindset issue, which has been resurfacing with greater frequency in the last couple of years than the last couple of decades. She was upset when a central security officer at an airport allegedly tried to equate her proficiency in Hindi with her Indianness and nationalism. The discussion on the National Education Policy, the two and three language formulas, environmental policies, agricultural reforms, fifteenth finance commission, CAA, NRC, etc., have only expanded the kerfuffle, and the growing distrust between the states and the Centre in recent times.

Besides all this, the cultural autonomy of the states have also felt threatened because of an ideological arraignment of oneness. Cultural matters are often reduced to linguistic matters but it is far wider than that. Again, to pick the example of Kerala, the attempt to redefine Onam as a festival of one community, and to replace the celebration of the munificent king Mahabali's annual arrival with his three-foot defeat by Vamana, has reignited flawed ethnic binaries. It burns bridges between two world views and shakes the foundation of federalism. Federalism's survival depends not just on discharge of honourable agreements related to distribution of constitutional powers and financial resources, but on repeated guarantees to nurture the diversity of our oneness. Cultural federalism actually forms the basic frame.

Interestingly, the two big Commissions we have had since the 1980s on Centre-states relations, the Justice Sarkaria Commission and the Justice Punchhi Commission, go into several material aspects of federalism but are silent on cultural federalism, which is the invisible glue that binds the nation together. However, the

TRUMP'S AMERICA, CHINA AND THE WORLD

N SATHIYA MOORTHY

Distinguished Fellow and Head-Chennai Initiative, Observer Research Foundation

The choice of Kamala Harris as the running mate of Democratic presidential nominee Joe Biden has increased Indian interest in the American presidential election. Typical of Tamil Nadu, which readily identifies as much with the 'global Tamil' as with the 'global Indian', flex boards have come up for Kamala, some with the late J Jayalalithaa blessing her from above.

The Indian angle misses the point that the nation had 'endorsed' US President Donald Trump when Prime Minister Narendra Modi appeared with him at a 'Howdy Modi' campaign rally at Texas in September last, followed by a 'Namaste Trump' return show in Ahmedabad this February. The Trump campaign is using 'Howdy Modi' clippings in its poll promos. How will New Delhi explain away the Texas show to a Biden presidency if it came to that? Like Pakistan and Article 370, some in Biden's White House could project it as 'interference' in 'internal affairs'.

On the home front, Trump was waiting to happen. After decades of weariness with war veterans in politics, the US gave billionaire-independent Ross Perot a fifth of all votes polled in 1992. Politicians and poll analysts then declared that America 'will not allow this to happen again'—letting an independent walk away with a large chunk of votes. Perot signified that Americans were willing to vote for change—and mainline criticism meant that the change should come from the status quo polity, not from someone who may not be a team player.

From Perot's time, the father-son Bush duo took America back to the era of security threats and wars overseas. Iraq's Saddam Hussein helped in the 90s with the Kuwaiti invasion, and the non-existent WMD (weapons of mass destruction) played that part a decade later. In their time, Bill Clinton and Barack Obama became 'transitional presidencies' for America and Americans to look inward. In between, during the Bush Jr era, Osama bin Laden brought the fear of God to the American homeland, long after Pearl Harbour.

Then came Trump, cornering Clinton-Obama's 'Ross Perot' kind of 'vote-for-change' votes. Appealing to those that the 'all-American' electoral behaviour had not attracted, Trump won his first term on promises that created a core constituency of American manufacturing labour who had lost jobs and incomes to China in particular over the previous decades.

Abrasive and arrogance: In his maiden presidential run, Trump made 'American jobs lost' (to India) one of his main planks, and won. This meant he had to deliver on HIB visa restrictions before facing his core constituency in America's 'Rust Belt', who had lost manufacturing jobs to China. So China has to be his main campaign plank this time.

Trump's China poll plank may have become America's foreign and security policy for the coming decades. A future American President is going to find it difficult to reset the clock on China, as allies including India and Japan, Southeast Asian nations and the EU will apply reverse pressure on the US not to change course at will Unwittingly or otherwise, Trump's current poll plank too may have become America's foreign and security policy for the coming decades. A future American President, now or later, is going to find it difficult to reset the clock on China, as allies including India and Japan, Southeast Asian nations and the EU will apply reverse pressure on the US not to change course at will and dump them, that too in favour of China—whom it has taught them to hate more than earlier.

Trump has got enough 'campaign support' from China's Xi Jinping in his electoral endeavour. Xi has added aggression to Trump's trademark abrasiveness through provocative actions in the South China Sea, East China Sea and along the Indian border. With return help from Trump's America, China is now where it wanted to be. It has emerged as the counterpoise to the US in the post-Cold War geo-strategic affairs, after successfully positioning itself as such in geo-political and geo-economic arenas. For China, the next step is to replace the US as the sole superpower.

Filling the vacuum: The territorial adventurism of China, coupled with military muscle flexing, economic might (until it ends up otherwise), political presence in P-5 and an enlarging list of 'client brilliant paragraphs. The first says: "There is a general tendency towards greater centralisation of powers. There is special need in a country like India for a conscious and purposive effort to counter it all the time. There is considerable truth in the saying that undue centralisation leads to blood pressure at the Centre and anaemia at the periphery. The inevitable result is morbidity and inefficiency. Indeed, centralisation does not solve but aggravates the problems of the people."

The second reads: "In view of the relatively communal nature of some 'majorities' and 'minorities' of different hues (of religion, caste, language, race, etc.) at different governmental levels of our country, it is most important that democracy is seen as government by 'compromise' between the majority and the minority, and not an authoritarian use by the former of its voting power riding roughshod over the latter... If the power of vote that democracy gives us is used thoughtlessly, or fanatically along communal lines, it may eventually sound the death-knell of secular democracy itself, in our heterogeneous society."

These two paras, understood well, can help the Centre and the states to waltz as a truly cooperative federal polity

Let him rest in peace

Former President Pranab Mukherjee is no more. But our politicians will not leave the departed soul to rest in peace. Some Congress leaders have been expressing their dismay over the former President's visit to the RSS headquarters in 2018! 'PM must pull up ministers propagating pseudoscience'

NATIONALIST Congress Party (NCP) MP Supriya Sule said senior ministers propagating pseudoscience and issuing unscientific statements should be reprimanded by Prime Minister Narendra Modi as these comments pull the country backwards. Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK) MP and academican Thamizhachi Thangapandian, agreeing with Sule, pointed out that New Education Policy talks about gurukuls and Indian values instead of universal values and described it as "the Manuismriti in a new bottle". Sule and Thangapandian were discussing NEP-2020 with Prabhu Chawla, Editorial Director, The New Indian Express, and author and senior journalist Kaverie Bamzai in TNIE Expressions, a series of live webcasts with people who matter.

Talking about the NEP and the attitude around it, Sule said she would appreciate if the Prime Minister reprimands senior ministers when they pass comments implying that papad can cure corona. "When

The two-language formula that was promised to TN should be kept intact. English is the global communication language and that has been accepted

Thamizhachi Thangapandian

In a state like Maharashtra, the three language policy has worked and we have no problem with it, unlike other states where Hindi is not spoken.

there is an HRD minister propagating something from the Stone Age, I want the PM to reprimand him and say this is not the thinking we should be propagating and that we should keep education away from this (politics)," she said.

Thangapandian said the NEP looks like a sugarcoated pill whose every component one needs to be wary of. "It is the basic right of every child to avail an education based on scientific temper, critical thinking and creativity. The NEP has the Sangh Parivar colour, more than anything. It has left out two important portions suggested by the Kothari Commission. The commission had insisted on universal values, but the NEP emphasises on Indian values. Also, it has insisted on the common school system which provides equality of education to all the students irrespective of their strata. It is against the federalist system of India as it centralises everything," she said.

Reply to a question why Indian values cannot be considered as universal even though it is a culmination of so many cultures, Sule said, "I have faith in Indian values but not blind faith. What concerns us is when we see senior ministers talking about concepts from the ancient times which have no scientific basis at all." Thangapandian added that generalising Indian values will be a mistake. "Indian value is a very broad term. India is proud of its diversity and multicultural regional components. How can you have a single syllabus for the entire country while they all have their individual identities?" she asked.

One of the most debated issues of the NEP has been the three-language policy which the southern states have been protesting for ages. Coming from Tamil Nadu which has been at the forefront of that protest, Thangapandian pointed out that the state has internalised the two-language system and it does not want to shift to a three-language policy. "The two-language formula that was promised to Tamil Nadu should be kept intact. English is the global communication language and that has been accepted. Why should a three-year-old have to undergo the burden of learning three languages?" said the writer and poet turned politician.

Sule, however, said she had grown up with the three language policy and had no problem with it being implemented. "In a state like Maharashtra, the three language policy has worked and we have no problem with it, unlike other states where Hindi is not spoken."

When asked if the NEP was uniting or dividing India, both MPs agreed that it was a failure of the government if a universal subject such as an education policy was being considered as having divided India.

Authors of book on Delhi riots file complaint against publisher

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE authors of the book Delhi Riots 2020: The Untold Story filed a complaint of cheating against Bloomsbury Publishing India Pvt Ltd, two news portals and some others on Thursday.

The complaint was filed under Sections 403, 405, 406, 409, 415, 420, 425, 426 of IPC for criminal breach of trust, cheating, mischief and misappropriation of property. It alleged that the publisher "deliberately, willfully with dishonest intentions expunged the work, effort and skill" of the author.

The complaint names news portals The Quint and Newsland, academic Nandini Sundar, authors Aatish Taseer, William Dalrymple, Meena Kandasamy, journalist Arfa Khanum Sherwani and activist Saket Gokhale, apart from the publisher of the book. One of the authors and main complainant, Monika Arora, later took to Twitter saying Delhi Police Commissioner SN Shrivastava had assured "strict action".

Bloomsbury had withdrawn the book recently after a controversy erupted over its online launch as the authors had invited as 'guest of honour' BJP leader Kapil Mishra, who had allegedly played a role in inciting violence through his speech in north-east Delhi against anti-Citizenship Amendment Act protesters. The riots broke out a day after his speech.

The complaint alleged that those named engaged in a "venomous campaign" on social media "to kill the book by pressurising, intimidating, bullying and blackmailing the publisher". After details of the complaint emerged, Kandasamy tweeted, "We will not allow literature and publishing to platform hate." Gokhale said the complaint was a 'joke' and an "attempt at intimidation by BJP-linked authors".

HATE SPEECH

Facebook to Cong: We are a non-partisan platform

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WITH several opposition parties raising concern over reports of hate speech bias by Facebook, the social media giant responded to a Congress communication, saying it is a non-partisan platform and will continue to remove hateful speeches.

"We are non-partisan and strive to ensure that our platforms remain a space where people can express themselves freely. We take allegations of bias seriously and want to make it clear that we denounce hate and bigotry in all forms," Facebook's Public Policy, Trust and Safety Director Neil Potts said responding to a letter by Congress General Secretary KC Venugopal.

Venugopal had written to Facebook following a report in the Wall Street Journal that its key public-policy executive in India, Ankit Das, didn't allow pulling down hate-filled post of a BJP leader.

Potts said that the social media giant removed 22.5 million [2.25 crore] pieces of hate speech content from April to June in 2020, up from 1.6 million pieces [16 lakh] of hate speech in the last quarter of 2017.

"We know there is much more to do and we will continue to invest our efforts to combat hate speech on our services. On the question of hateful content by public figures, we want to assure you that our Community Standards prohibit attacks against people based on their protected characteristics, including religion, caste, ethnicity, and origin. In line with our hate speech policy, we have removed and will continue to remove hateful content by public figures in India," he said.

He further said, "We consult a community of external voices, including civil society organisations, academics, and subject experts. We also rely on inputs from a broad cross-section of internal teams...in enforcement of our policies on hate speech and dangerous organizations and individuals."

"We have a team with deep expertise on terrorism and organised hate, who pay attention to global and regional trends and advise on these matters. These decisions are not made unilaterally by any one person; rather, they are inclusive of different views from teams around the company, a process that is critical to making sure we consider...both the local and global contexts," the director added.

'LAC situation direct result of Chinese actions'

MEA spokesperson says that the only way ahead is negotiations through diplomatic and military channels

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @ New Delhi

INDIA on Thursday said that the situation along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) over the past four months is a direct result of Chinese actions.

"It is clear that the situation we witness over the past four months is a direct result of the actions taken by the Chinese side that sought to effect unilateral change of status quo. These actions resulted in violation of the bilateral agreements and protocol which ensured peace and tranquility in the border areas for close to three decades," MEA spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

He said, "Now the way ahead is negotiations, both through the diplomatic and military channels. The Indian side is firmly committed to resolving all outstanding issues through peaceful dialogue," he said.

On Tuesday India said that the Chinese side had resorted aggression on the southern bank of the Pangong Tso in eastern Ladakh even as commander-level talks were being held to resolve the issue which had arisen due to the attempted transgression of the Chinese troops on the intervening night of August 29 and 30. New Delhi and Beijing have blamed each other for the latest flare up in tensions along the LAC. While India has accused China of trying to unilaterally change the status quo, the Chinese side has accused Indian troops of illegally crossing the LAC into Chinese territory.

Srivastava reiterated the consensus reached between the two foreign ministers and special representatives and said that the issue at the border should be handled in a responsible manner.

"Either side should not take any provocative action or escalate matters. We therefore strongly urge the Chinese side to engage Indian side with the objective of expeditiously restoring the peace and tranquility in the border areas through complete disengagement and de-escalation in accordance with the bilateral agreements and protocols," he said.

CHINA FUNDS ANTI-INDIA STIR ON NEPAL BORDER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CHINA has been trying to fuel tensions between India and Nepal and it has paid Rs 2.5 crore (in Nepalese currency) to various Nepal-based organisations to carry out demonstrations against India along the Indo-Nepal border that stretches to over 1,700-km, according to sources in intelligence agencies.

"Chinese Embassy in Nepal has provided financial support of Rs 2.5 crore (NPR) for organising anti-India protests/demonstrations along India-Nepal border areas highlighting the recent border disputes and interferences of India in Nepal's internal/political matters," intelligence agencies said.

Earlier this week, the MHA called for heightened vigilance on the India-Nepal border and the tri-junction areas in Uttarakhand and Sikkim anticipating that China might use its influence with Nepal to create trouble.

The India-Nepal relation has come under stress after China

Mountaineer who helped soldiers gain heights

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

COLONEL Ranveer Singh Jamwal is known as an ace mountaineer, but very few are aware of his military prowess. Colonel's mountaineering skill were put to use on the intervening night of August 29 and 30 in positioning the soldiers in dominating locations in the crucial Spangur Gap.

Having the understanding of movements in such high altitude, he was entrusted with planning and leading of operations. Talking about it, the Army said, "On the intervening night of August 29 and 30, PLA troops who had earlier arrived during military and diplomatic engagements violated the previous consensus and carried out provocative military movements to change the status quo. Indian troops pre-empted this PLA activity on the Southern Bank of Pangong Tso Lake and undertook measures to strengthen our positions to change facts on ground."

Colonel Jamwal, originally belonging to the Jat Regiment of the Indian Army was involved in the operations on the 16,000ft high mountain peaks. Jamwal was best suited for the task as he is the only officer to

India ready to hold Quad meet later this year

India on Thursday said it was ready to hold a meeting of the Quad later this year and that details of the same are being worked out. The confirmation from the Indian side comes weeks after US Deputy Secretary of State Stephen Biegun said that a ministerial level meeting of the Quad would be held in New Delhi. The Quad is a grouping comprising US, India, Japan and Australia.

have summited the 8,848 metre high Mountain Everest along with other highest points of all seven continents.

Colonel Jamwal, a native of Jammu and Kashmir, is a son of an army soldier and joined the forces as a sepoy. He has been awarded with the country's highest Adventure Award, 'The Tenzing Norgay Award' (Equivalent to Arjuna Award) in 2013 and is today counted amongst the world's best mountaineers. The Indian Mountaineering Foundation, apex mountaineering body of the country, has also awarded him with the IMF Gold Medal in 2017.

TERROR TAG

UNSC blocks Pak's proposal on two Indians

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE United Nations Security Council has blocked Pakistan's attempt to list two Indians as designated terrorists under the council's 1267 Committee for Counter terrorism Sanctions.

With this, Pakistan's attempt to designate four Indian nationals as terrorists has been halted. Pakistan had moved the UNSC to designate Gobinda Patnaik and Angara Appaji as designated terrorists. However, five countries - US, UK, Germany, France and Belgium blocked the move as it could not produce evidence to substantiate its claims.

"Pakistan's blatant attempt to politicise 1267 special procedure on terrorism by giving it a religious colour, has been thwarted by UN Security Council. We thank all those Council members who have blocked Pakistan's designs," Permanent Representative of India to the United Nations, TS Tirumurti tweeted.

Earlier this year, a similar move by Islamabad against Ajoy Mishra and Venu Madhav Dongara was blocked by the UNSC. Islamabad's attempts to put four Indians on the 1267 list is seen as its retaliation to India's successful move to get Jaish-e-Mohammed founder Maulana Masood Azhar on the 1267 Sanctions list.

Recently, Pakistan was left red-faced after its envoy's claims that he had delivered a statement at the UNSC were debunked by India.

The Pakistan envoy had claimed that his country was a victim of terror:

Steroids reduce mortality in corona patients, confirms new evidence

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A meta-analysis of international clinical trials has confirmed that inexpensive, widely available steroid drugs can help seriously-ill survive Covid-19.

Based on the new evidence, the World Health Organisation has now issued new treatment guidelines, strongly recommending steroids to treat severely and critically-ill patients, but has cautioned against its use in patients with mild disease.

In India, dexamethasone and methylprednisolone have been used since mid-May to aid seriously ill corona patients needing ICU care. This was even before the Recovery Trial by researchers from the Oxford University in June showed that dexamethasone was seen cutting down mortalities in patients in randomised control trials.

Now, the latest evidence includes an analysis that pooled data from seven randomised clinical trials evaluating three steroids in more than 1,700 patients. The study concluded that each of the three drugs reduced the risk of death.

JAMA has published the paper and three related studies, along with an editorial dubbing the research as an 'important step forward in the treatment of patients with Covid-19.'

Corticosteroids should now be the first-line treatment for critically ill patients, the authors have said in the paper:

Remdisivir, is the only other drug shown to be effective in seriously ill patients, marginally. But it has not been established yet that this drug reduces mortality and the benefit has been found only in terms of reduction in hospital stay.

Steroids such as dexamethasone, hydrocortisone and methylprednisolone are used by doctors to calm down the body's immune system, alleviating inflammation and pain. For critically ill Covid19 patients, it's not usually the pathogen itself but the hyperinflammatory reaction of the body against the infection that proves fatal for the patients.

The new meta-analysis has shown that steroids were linked with a one-third reduction in deaths among critically ill Covid19 patients.

While dexamethasone produced a 36 per cent drop in deaths in 1,282 patients treated in three separate trials, hydrocortisone, tested in 374 patients in three trials, appeared to reduce deaths by 31 per cent, and a small trial of methylprednisolone in 47 patients resulted in a 9 per cent drop in deaths.

The analysis was carried out by a WHO working group which has been working towards rapidly evaluating Covid 19 therapies.

In the latest guidelines, the WHO has warned against unwarranted use of steroids and said, "It could deplete global supplies, depriving patients who genuinely need it."

Mask not must if you are alone in car: Health ministry

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Union health ministry on Thursday clarified that there is no central advisory to suggest that those riding a car alone should wear masks and any violation could attract a penalty. Health secretary Rajesh Bhushan said while people exercising in a group should wear masks and maintain social distancing, the same does not apply to those in vehicles alone.

There have been numerous instances, mainly in Delhi-NCR, of police issuing challans to people not wearing masks when in the car alone.

Concern over rise in cases

The Centre expressed concern over rising daily Covid-19 deaths in Karnataka and Delhi as the number of fresh cases detected within a day from across the country crossed the 83,000 mark for the first time.

With 83,883 new patients detected on Wednesday, the total count reached 38,53,406 while the death toll climbed to 67,376 with 1,043 fatalities in 24 hours.

Maharashtra, TN, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh and Delhi account for 70% of all Covid deaths.

What is worrying, said Bhushan, is that in Karnataka and Delhi, the average daily death grew over the last three weeks — by 9.6% and 50%, respectively, in last week of August. Centre is also concerned about high test positivity rates among healthcare workers in Telangana (18%), Maharashtra (16%), Delhi (14%), Karnataka (13%), Puducherry (12%), Punjab (11%).

EOW to probe supply of sub-standard rice in MP

CM blames previous Kamal Nath govt for taking no action over distribution of sub-standard rice procured from Balaghat millers in February

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

MADHYA CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan has handed over the probe into the supply of sub-standard rice under the Targeted Public Distribution System (TPDS) in Mandla and Balaghat districts to the state's Economic Offence Wing (EOW). Instructions about the EOW probe were issued by the CM at a high-level meeting over the issue on Thursday. Chouhan blamed the previous Kamal Nath-led Congress government for taking no action in the matter of distribution of sub-standard rice procured from the millers in Balaghat under the public distribution system in February.

After the inspection of Balaghat and Mandla districts, the supply and transport of rice from the warehouses was discontinued. As per the milling policy, the sub-standard quality

FIR against 27 accused in Balaghat

In Balaghat, District Collector Deepak Arya has issued orders to lodge FIRs against 18 rice mill owners and nine officers and employees of Warehouse Corporation and State Civil Supplies Corporation, including the district manager of the Civil Supplies Corporation. He also ordered power lines of all the 18 rice mills to be disconnected.

rice will be replaced by the standard quality. Corruption will not be tolerated at any level, Chouhan said.

The CM also said the case related to quality of food grains and ration scam should be investigated thoroughly. Irregularities occurring in the past will also be probed. He had instructed the officials on Wednesday to take strict steps in the matter of supply of rice of sub-standard quality.

Inspections revealed 3,136 MT and 1,658 MT of rice in warehouses of Balaghat and Mandla was of sub-standard quality. The supply and transport of rice from these warehouses were discontinued, officials said.

Fifty-one teams have been formed for inspections while more than 1,000 samples of stored rice were collected of which 284 samples are being tested. As per FCI officials, 72 samples are fit for distribution, while 57 samples do not meet the standards. The work of taking samples from the remaining quantity of rice from other districts will also be completed this week. Action has been taken to terminate the services of the erring quality controllers. Warehouses and mills of the millers, who had supplied low-quality rice, are being searched. An FIR has already been registered against the millers.

Committed to ensure safety of Jadhav: MEA on Pak HC's order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Islamabad High Court on Thursday gave India another chance to appoint a lawyer for former Indian Navy officer Kulbhushan Jadhav and posted the matter for hearing next month.

The court took up the case of appointment of lawyer for Jadhav to hear the review of the death sentence given to him by a Pakistani military court. It observed that "in order to remove any further doubt, India should be given another opportunity to appoint a lawyer".

"We are touch with the Pakistani authorities through diplomatic channels and are committed to ensure the safety of Jadhav," MEA spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

Jadhav was arrested in 2017 on charges of espionage and later sentenced to death. India subsequently moved the International Court of Justice, which directed Pakistan to stay Jadhav's execution, grant consular access to New Delhi and devise a review mechanism.

Last month, Islamabad claimed that Jadhav had refused to file a review and that he would rely on a mercy plea. The remarks had evoked a response from New Delhi, which said that Pakistan had coerced him to refuse a review and that it was conducting a farcical trial and was not implementing the ICJ judgment in letter and spirit.

Later, the Pakistan Law and Justice Ministry moved the HC seeking the appointment of a lawyer for Jadhav.

India, however, has asserted that an Indian lawyer must be assigned in the case.

SAFETY CONCERN

'Family feared I'll be put in jail again'

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

DR Kafeel Khan asserted that his decision to come to Jaipur was prompted by the fears of his family as they were all apprehensive that the Uttar Pradesh government might again imprison him under some fictitious charges.

"Since Bharatpur is adjacent to Mathura I decided to come here, (Congress general secretary) Priyanka Gandhi helped me a lot. Since there is a Congress government in Rajasthan, I feel I will be safe here. My family also feel it will be safer for us to stay here because in past seven and half months I have suffered a lot of mental harassment and physical torture," the paediatrician said in a press conference.

"I was leading a simple life.

I tried to expose the system as children died at BRD Medical College due to lack of oxygen. This did not go well with our CM and a false case was lodged, and I was sent to jail."

At the same time, he expressed hope of returning to his home state. "I will send off a letter to the CM and request him to reinstate me in my job."

I would like to be useful in helping my state in the Corona crisis," Khan said.

Regarding the Citizenship (Amendment) Act, Khan said he had no problem with the Act but with the 'chronology' that stated it will be followed by exercises related to the National Population Register and the National Register of Citizens. "I don't want citizens to be discriminated against on the basis of their religion," he said.

Make in Bihar app to boost Nitish poll campaign in pandemic times

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

THE ruling JD-U in Bihar will use an extensive digital platform in the Assembly polls, and if party leaders are to be believed, it will be on the lines of what the Trump team did in the US election.

The party on Wednesday launched JDULive.com app with a capacity to link 10 lakh viewers at a time. According to state Water Resource Minister Sanjay K Jha, party national president Nitish Kumar will address people through this app on Sept 7, kicking off the campaign for the elections.

The app will connect all the 38 districts within 30 seconds even at slow internet speed. Party sources claimed the app was earlier used by US President Donald Trump for campaigning.

"It is developed with the latest technology by Bihar-born IITians following the 'Make in Bihar' move. It will have one, two-way communication facilities through which Nitish Kumar will communicate with the people," Jha said.

JD-U leaders at the launch of the party's campaign for Bihar polls | EXPRESS

The JD-U has uploaded all speeches of Nitish on the digital platform, and other details of works done by the party with videos and audio inputs.

This app has been made user friendly without any need to enter a password to be linked. "Around 25 lakh people will be sent the link of this app on their mobile phones. Those who will still not be able to connect could listen to the speech on Facebook pages of JD-U leaders and Nitish Kumar, Twitter and YouTube," said a JD-U leader.

The JDULive.com is different from the Namo app which does not have a two-way communication facility. "The Namo app also doesn't have a messenger module, while the JDU app has for sending messages to people," said a JD-U leader.

JEE-Main logs 75% attendance; B Arch, B Planning hit

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday released the attendance sheet for Joint Entrance Examinations (Main) that showed about 54.5%, 81% and 82% of the registered candidates appeared in the tests on Day 1, 2 and 3.

On September 1 when the tests began, the examination was for B Architecture and B Planning courses while tests for B Engineering and B Tech courses started from the next day. These tests that will conclude on September 6 are being organised by the National Testing Agency despite resistance from students, guardians, and several opposition parties due to the ongoing pandemic.

The attendance show that overall, in the three days, 3,43,958 out of the 4,58,521 registered candidates—or a little above 75% of those who signed up for the examinations—actually sat for the test.

This marks an overall drop of about 15% from the JEE (Main) conducted in January this year with the sharpest drop in those aspiring to pursue B Arch and B Planning courses.

The data released by the education ministry also gave a detailed shift wise and day wise break up of students who took the test, which is also screening for admission into the prestigious Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs) and the National Institutes of Technology (NITs).

A total of 7,94,741 students had downloaded the admit cards for the test.

"Heart whelming to see so many students participating in this Yagna to create aatmanirbhar Bharat despite Covid 19 pandemic. I thank all Chief Ministers for their support to ensure that students' careers are not affected," tweeted Union education minister Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank while releasing the attendance sheet for the examination.

Many Chief Ministers have been opposing JEE and the NEET which is to be held on September 13. On Wednesday, Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee had claimed that only 25% of JEE aspirants appeared for the test on Tuesday due to the Centre's "adamant attitude of holding examination amid the coronavirus pandemic."

Teacher in Red zone feted for visionary initiatives

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @Patna

MORE than a decade and a half back, Bihar's Kharmouli and its adjoining areas in Begusarai district were affected by Maoist violence. Most of its residents were cattle grazers and small farmers. For the newly appointed headmaster of the High School Kharmouli in Birpur block, this was a hopeless world. But then Sant Kumar Sahni, his vision partially affected since birth, saw a redeeming feature in the innocence of children.

Sahni, a postgraduate in Economics, Education and Psychology, is one of the 47 teachers selected for the National Teacher Award-2020 on the occasion of Teachers Day.

"When I joined the school, there were only 123 students. The number has now gone up to 1,336, and with help of 19 teachers, the school has been showing more than 92% results in matriculation," he said.

Sahni, 54, still peddles an old bicycle to villages and encourages the people to send their children to school on time. "Soon after joining the school, I decided to give a small pep talk to the children and teachers after the morning prayers. This did wonders for both."

The reward came soon enough. "In 2005, Rupa Kumari, a student of this school won the 3rd prize in a free-style swimming competition in Patna. This was a first for the school. Since then many students have excelled in inter-district cultural programmes, including quiz, elocution and writing."

Impressed by Sahni's enthusiasm, local farmers and labourers still donate milk, sugar and rice regularly for cooking 'khcheer' for the students.

The Bihar government has upgraded the school to plus-two level and has built 30 classrooms with all facilities, including for smart classes.

"We have a well-maintained library, laboratory, computer lab and a unique mini-museum in the school," he said. Built in 2015, the museum has rare items, collected from rural localities including grains of 25 crops of ancient times.

Sahni's daughter Aditi studies in Class 10 of the school and is a national chess player.

Crusade against cybercrime in Bilaspur

The Bilaspur Police has launched a novel awareness campaign against the rising tele-fraud and cybercrimes by raising awareness among citizens. Over 10,000 volunteers including police personnel have been specially trained as "Cyber Rakshaks" for the Cyber Mitaan (Friend) campaign. "The people should know how they might be targeted or become vulnerable to tricks and tactics of various cybercrimes. We are trying to enlighten everyone by reaching out to 706 villages, all 7 towns and every ward of Bilaspur district through small meetings, street plays and door-to-door contacts", said Prashant Agrawal, Bilaspur SP. There has been a perceptible rise in cybercrime during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Combat counterfeiting, smuggling

During a webinar 'Combating counterfeiting and smuggling during the Covid-19 pandemic and beyond', the need was felt for unprecedented reforms to create an enabling environment even as Chhattisgarh boasts of offering investors a friendly infrastructure. The event organised by FICCI CASCADE (Committee Against Smuggling and Counterfeiting Activities Destroying the Economy) and attended by senior officials of the state, felt the need of effective coordination between central and state agencies, to strengthen domestic manufacturing and addressing the demand and supply gap that will make markets free from illicit products and trades. The initiative is a part of a series of such interactions been organised across the country by FICCI.

Amid Covid, CS asks to redesign strategies

Chief Secretary R P Mandal has directed senior officials to ensure speedy completion of works taken on priority by the state. Communicating with Commissioners and Collectors via video conferencing, he instructed them to review the situation emerging out of incessant rains and the progress of various welfare programmes. The CS asked the officials to analyse the Covid situation and redesign the action plan to mitigate the challenges. Every key project of prime concerns has to be completed in the given time frame. Officials were told to ensure proper preparations remain in place during the NEET, AIIMS examinations and the accommodation along with free prompt transport be arranged for candidates who arrived from far-flung areas.

6% higher GST collection

Chhattisgarh recorded around six percent higher collection of Good and Services Tax (GST) in August compared to the corresponding duration last year. The state's collection was ₹1873 crore under GST last year and rose to ₹1994 crore during the current fiscal year. "The high collection of GST amid Covid-19 reflects the economic policies that foster positive growth in the market," the state government asserted. As per the recent union finance ministry report, the Chhattisgarh recorded a 6 per cent hike in GST collection securing the fourth position among the states.

Funds for mosque to be used as per Sharia norms

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE Indo-Islamic Cultural Foundation (IICF) or the trust for building Dhanpur mosque near Ayodhya, will ensure that the crowd funding for the proposed shrine strictly conforms to Sharia norms. It has already opened a bank account to receive donations.

Sources close to (IICF) members said crowd funding for the mosque and other utilities, including a hospital, community kitchen, library and a cultural centre, would be dealt with separately.

"We will have to be very conscious about how we use the money as there are certain kinds of income, such as interest income, profiteering and hoarding which cannot be used to build a mosque," said a senior trustee.

With the trust office already in place in Lucknow and two bank accounts opened to facilitate crowd funding, the foundation is now in the process of creating its portal, which will have the payment gateways for taking donations for the mosque and the public utility construction as part of the mosque project.

The foundation was handed over the land for the proposed mosque at Dhanpur village under Sohawal tehsil, in Ayodhya district after measurement by the local revenue officials.

The state had allotted 5 acres, around 20 km from the Ram Janmabhoomi premises, to the UP Sunni Central Waqf Board for the construction of the mosque following the SC directives on November 9, 2019. On Tuesday, IICF appointed SM Akhtar, founder dean, Faculty of Architecture, Jamia Millia Islamia, as the consultant architect of IICF, Masjid complex project.

Pressure mounts on Merkel to toughen stance against Russia

Calls to abandon controversial German-Russian energy pipeline after alleged use of nerve agent on Kremlin critic

HOW NERVE AGENTS ACT ON HUMANS

Nerve agents, like Novichok, affect the central nervous system by disrupting communication between the brain, the main organs and muscles

A signalling overload results in muscle contraction which can lead to breathing difficulties and paralysis

In severe cases the victim may asphyxiate, suffer heart failure and die

HOW ARE THEY TREATED?

Navalny is being treated with the antidote atropine

Atropine relieves symptoms by blocking acetylcholine—a chemical transmitter that controls muscle contraction

Nerve agents attack the enzyme that controls acetylcholine, leading to an overproduction and muscle malfunction

With time, the body clears out the nerve agent and starts producing the acetylcholine-controlling enzyme itself

BERLIN

GERMAN Chancellor Angela Merkel faced mounting pressure on Thursday to toughen her ambivalent stance towards Russia following her announcement that Berlin has “unequivocal” proof that Russian opposition leader Alexei Navalny was poisoned with a deadly nerve agent.

The Navalny case is only the latest in what Berlin has seen as a series of bitter provocations by Russian President Vladimir Putin that have damaged ties and called future cooperation into question. But German politicians and media said a line had been crossed with the use on Navalny of military-grade Novichok, a poison first developed by the Soviet Union towards the end of the Cold War.

Merkel was confronted with inconsistent calls in particular to abandon the controversial German-Russian energy project Nord Stream 2, a multi-billion-euro gas pipeline nearing completion that has drawn the ire of US and European partners alike.

“Diplomatic rituals are no longer enough,” the head of the German parliament’s foreign affairs committee, Norbert Roettgen, tweeted.

“After the poisoning of Navalny we need a strong European answer which Putin understands: The EU should jointly decide to stop Nord Stream 2,” said Roettgen, a candidate to be the next leader of Merkel’s Christian Democratic Union party.

The top-selling Bild daily issued a full-throated appeal to abandon the pipeline, saying that pursuing it was “tantamount to us financing Putin’s next Novichok attack”.

Bild slammed Merkel for comments last week that Nord Stream 2 should be judged independently from Moscow’s actions. “Vladimir Putin views the gas pipeline as an important strategic weapon against Europe and as a vital source of funding for his war against his own people,” it said.

Navalny’s poisoning comes a year after a daylight murder of a former Chechen rebel commander in a Berlin park, which German prosecutors believe was ordered by Russia.

Merkel had also revealed in May that Russia had targeted her in hacking attacks, saying she had proof of the “outrageous” spying attempts.

NY probes March death of black man in police custody

NEW YORK

NEW YORK State’s attorney general is investigating the March death of a black man after video footage emerged this week of him being hooded by police and forced face down in a road.

Daniel Prude’s death became public after his family held a news conference on Wednesday, as outrage mounts in the US over the police treatment of black people across the country. Prude, aged 41, died about week after being detained, but relatives and other activists have called for legal action against the officers who were involved. Prude’s brother told reporters he called police to take his brother into custody on March 23 after he suffered a mental health episode.

According to police body cam footage made public Wednesday, when officers arrived Prude was unarmed and naked in the road.

Police ordered an initially compliant Prude to get on the ground, but after being handcuffed he became increasingly agitated before officers put a “spit hood” on him.

Facebook to ban political ads a week before US presidential polls

1 Hacker Way

WASHINGTON

FACEBOOK says it will ban political advertising the week before the US election, one of its most sweeping moves against disinformation yet as Chief Executive Mark Zuckerberg warned of a “risk of civil unrest” after the vote.

The social media giant also vowed to fact check any premature claims of victory, stating that if a candidate tries to declare himself the winner before final votes are tallied “we’ll add a label to their posts directing people to the official results.”

And it promised to “add an informational label” to any content seeking to delegitimise the results or claim that “lawful voting methods” will lead to fraud. Democrats have long warned that President Donald Trump and his supporters may try to sow chaos with false claims on November 3, when the vote will take place amid unprecedented health and economic crises, social unrest and protests for racial justice.

The US remains the epicenter of the world’s worst coronavirus outbreak, and voters are expected to shift to mail-in voting, with an estimated three-quarters of the population eligible to do so.

As a result officials are warning that the final tally may not be revealed until well after voting day—spurring fears that paranoia and rumor-mongering could hit an all-time high. Trump has recently hurtled down a rabbit hole of conspiracy theories filled with claims that he is victim of a coup and/or plans to rig the polls.

Almost daily, he claims that increased mail-in voting is a gambit to “rig” the election against him, and he has refused to say whether he will accept the results. On Wednesday night, he drew additional scrutiny for encouraging voters in North Carolina to vote twice, which is illegal.

One missing as tanker bound for India catches fire off Lanka

COLOMBO

AN oil tanker carrying crude from Kuwait to India burst into flames off the eastern coast of Sri Lanka on Thursday, leaving one of its 23 crew members missing and another injured, a navy spokesman said. The Panama registered tanker New Diamond was carrying 270,000 metric tonnes of crude oil from Kuwait to India when its engine room caught fire off the coast of Sangamankanda in the eastern district of Ampara, Sri Lankan Navy spokesman Capt Indika Silva said.

The Navy said that one Filipino crew member remains missing, while they have rescued another Filipino national, a third engineer, who was injured. He was sent to hospital in Kalmunai in the eastern province.

The Navy also rescued the captain of the tanker and a crew member whose nationalities have not been given.

MV Helen, a vessel sailing in the area, rescued 3 Greeks and 16 Filipino crew members from the distressed vessel.

The Navy spokesman said that at least four ships had been dispatched to carry out the rescue operation.

The naval ships were dispatched from the eastern port of Trincomalee and the southern port of Hambantota.

The Indian Coast Guard also pressed into action three of its ships and a Dornier aircraft after the Sri Lankan Navy sought assistance to control the fire on board the oil tanker.

FFC to deliberate on revenue, GST compensation

The 15th Finance Commission is scheduled to meet its economic advisory panel on Friday

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AMID ongoing tensions between the Centre and the states over the GST compensation, the 15th Finance Commission, headed by NK Singh, will hold a day-long meeting with the Economic Advisory Council of the commission on Friday, over the issue of revenue and GST compensation.

According to an official statement, the meeting is for a "final discussion on GDP growth, tax buoyancy of the Centre and the states, GST compensation, revenue deficit grant and fiscal consolidation".

The members of the Economic Advisory Council who are likely to attend the meeting include Pinaki Chakraborty, Prachi Mishra, Omark Goswami, Sajid Z. Cheno, Neelkanth Mishra, Rathin Roy, D.K. Srivastava, Arvind Virmani, M. Govinda Rao, Sudipto Mundle, Shankar Acharya, Pronab Sen as well as Krishnamurthy Subramanian.

The meeting is crucial as it comes at a time when the Centre is staring at massive 23.9 per cent contraction in the GDP growth during the April-June quarter. Further, there is a GST collection shortfall of ₹3 lakh crore and exhausting fiscal deficit target in first four months itself. The Centre's fiscal deficit during April-July stood at ₹8.21 lakh crore or 103 per cent of 2020-21 budget estimates of ₹7.96 lakh crore.

Sources claimed that the meeting is also crucial amid the growing impatience in even BJP-ruled states over delayed GST compensation, which policy makers said cannot be quickly fixed, if it continues to linger on for some more time.

The issue of GST compensation has already caused a tussle between the Centre and several states.

Earlier, many states have rejected the alternate mechanism that was provided by the Centre to help states get funds in the absence of compensation. The Centre has proposed two borrowing options for the states. First, to borrow from a special window facilitated by the Reserve Bank of India or from market — to meet the ₹2.35 lakh crore GST shortfall, and secondly, it has proposed extending the compensation cess levied on luxury, demerit and sin goods beyond 2022. The compensation due to the states in April-July period stood at ₹1.5 lakh crore.

However several states have not yet agreed upon it yet.

Diesel rates cut for first time in nearly 6 months

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

STATE-run oil marketing companies cut diesel prices for the first time in nearly six months on Thursday even as petrol rates remained unchanged. While fuel prices have been steadily revised upwards over the course of the summer, since March 16, at no point did prices take a dip.

This, even as crude prices crashed in the wake of the pandemic, going from $60 per barrel at the end of January to as low as $16 in the middle of April.

The governments at the Centre and states hiked excise duties and Value Added Tax (VAT) even as OMCs held prices unchanged after fuel demand crashed. But, once crude oil began rising again, currently trading at $43.40 per barrel, fuel prices have been increased to record highs to account for the higher duties.

Alternating sprees of price hikes for petrol and diesel

Petrol price remains unchanged at ₹82 a litre

Petrol, which witnessed the second rally in rates beginning mid-August, was unchanged at ₹82.08 a litre. Price went up by ₹9.17 per litre between June 7 and June 29 before hitting a pause.

had led to the fuels retailing at ₹88.73 per litre and ₹80.11 per litre respectively in Mumbai as on September 2, 2020, Wednesday.

On Thursday, however, OMCs revised diesel prices downwards by 16 paise a litre for the first time since March 16, but kept petrol rates unchanged. Crude oil prices, having steadily traded at around $44-45 per barrel over the month of August, fell by 2.3 per cent on Thursday.

Retail fuel prices are unregulated, supposed to be linked to international benchmarks and revised based on a 15-day rolling average, according to industry sources.

However, since the pandemic struck, OMCs have departed from the policy, keeping rates unchanged even as crude prices hit rock bottom.

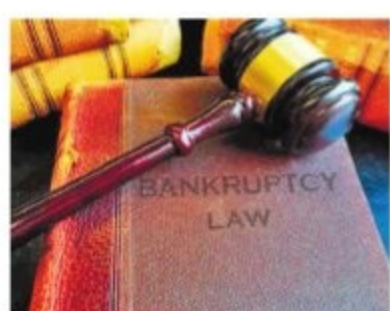

Fresh insolvency cases admitted by NCLT down 75% during Apr-June

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

EVEN as the cross-country lockdown meant businesses and credit flow took a knock, the number of cases admitted under the Insolvency & Bankruptcy Code (IBC) has shown otherwise, thanks to the year-long suspension of fresh bankruptcy proceedings.

According to the latest data released by the Insolvency & Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI), only 76 corporate insolvency cases were admitted between April and June. This compares to 301 cases admitted in the same quarter last year — a decline of almost 75 per cent. As many as 435 cases were admitted by bankruptcy courts in the preceding March quarter or over 82 per cent more than the June quarter.

The number of cases admitted for Corporate Insolvency Resolution Processes (CIRPs) over the last 13 quarters has increased significantly, and has been generally increasing every quarter, with a major portion of these cases being admitted over the last eight quarters. Over 45 per cent of the total number of insolvency cases, which stands at 3,911, were admitted after the first quarter of FY20.

Experts say is a crucial outcome as financial creditors still continue to use IBC as a framework of resolution. "This reflects the increasing pivotal role played by this body in resolution of stressed assets despite the introduction of a new circular from RBI in June 2019 which removed a clause that made it mandatory for cases to be admitted to IBC. Out of the total admitted cases, 50 per cent cases were initiated by operational creditors and 43 per cent by financial creditors," Kotak Institutional Equities wrote in a note. The cumulative share of operational creditors increased to 62 per cent at the end of Q1 FY21, while financial creditors' share declined to 32 per cent even as the share of corporate debtors remained at similar level compared with the last year.

Post implementation of the IBC, the overall recovery rate till date in India has improved to 44.7 per cent. However, the recovery for Q1 FY21 has dipped to 30.2 per cent, which is significantly lower than 64.1 per cent reported in the last quarter (Q4 FY20).

China strongly opposes India's decision to ban mobile apps, seeks rectification

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

CHINA has strongly objected India's decision to ban 118 more Chinese apps and has asked India to rectify the practice.

"India has abused the concept of national security and adopted discriminatory restrictive measures against Chinese companies," Chinese commerce ministry spokesman Gao Feng said at a press briefing.

Spokesperson of Chinese Embassy in India— Counselor Ji Rong said that the relevant practices by the Indian government not only harm the legitimate rights and interests of Chinese investors and service providers, but also harm the interests of Indian consumers and the investment environment. "We urge the Indian government to rectify the discriminatory practices violating WTO rules, and provide an open, fair and impartial business environment for all market players from various countries including China," Rong said.

On Wednesday, India banned 118 Chinese apps, including the popular gaming app PUBG, over cybersecurity concerns even as geopolitical tension between the two neighbouring nations has continued to escalate.

For PUBG, the ban meant losing around 40 million monthly active users in biggest global market—India.

Among the new apps that have been banned on Wednesday include Baidu, Alipay and numerous other dating and gaming apps. When tension between the two nations first escalated in June, India had then banned 59 Chinese apps, including TikTok. Later in July, India banned additional 47 apps.

The Indian startup ecosystem, however, welcomed the move and said the ban gives them a level playing field.

Protection/annuity segments are likely to see healthy growth and should help drive steady margins (24.6% by FY22E). ULIP business growth should remain sluggish in the near term given weak buyer sentiment. We estimate IPRULife to deliver CAGR of ~13% in VNB over FY19-22E, largely led by continued expansion in VNB margin while operating RoEV should sustain at ~15%.

Infosys to acquire US-based firm Kaleidoscope Innovation for $42 million

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

EVEN as IT service providers reported a flat growth in the first quarter if FY21, the subsequent quarters are expected to bring a notable improvement with the backing of strong deal flows. India's second largest IT firm Infosys on Thursday said that it will acquire US-based product design and engineering firm Kaleidoscope Innovation for $42 million (about ₹308 crore). This acquisition of is expected to strengthen the firm's health-tech vertical which witnessed a robust growth amidst the Covid-19 global pandemic.

Kaleidoscope designs micro-surgical instruments, devices used in minimally invasive surgery, drug delivery devices for ophthalmic therapies and user-centric wearables. It also offers usability testing in support of regulatory submissions, including the delivery mechanism for aortic stents.

This acquisition will be the company's second, after it acquired Simplus, a salesforce consulting and advisory firm for $250 million.

"This acquisition further strengthens our digital offerings at the intersection of new software technologies and medical devices — a sector that is expected to witness significant investments and consumerization in the post-COVID era," Infosys President Ravi Kumar said in a statement.

He further added: "Our clients will benefit from the combination of Kaleidoscope's strong upstream offerings of product innovation and design, and Infosys' stack of product engineering, validation and commercialisation services at a global scale."

The acquisition is said to close in the second quarter of FY21, subject to customary closing conditions.

Gems, jewellery exports may fall 30% this fiscal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

EXPORTS of gems and jewellery, a major component of India's total exports by value, may fall by as much as 25-30 per cent during the current financial year, according to the Gem and Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC). The reason, the association says, is the complete washout of business in the first quarter due to pandemic-related disruptions, with much of production taking a hit.

"There was a complete shutdown during the first quarter of this financial year (April-June) due to complete lockdown in India, as well as the importing countries in order to curb the spread of the pandemic. Even though things are improving, the washout of the first quarter will have a cascading effect on the entire financial year," said GJEPC Chairman Colin Shah. He was speaking to reporters after the inauguration of the first virtual buyer-seller meet for loose diamonds, a first the council has been forced into due to the unprecedented pandemic.

Shah noted that the next two quarters would continue to be challenging due to continuing manufacturing restrictions. "Overall, we are expecting 25-30 per cent decline in gems and jewellery exports in 2020-21," he said. While the demand is expected to rebound this year, manufacturing is seen as the primary challenge, since many workers have not returned to their jobs.

Anuradha's tale: Research scientist by profession, cricketer by passion

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

"AFTER the match, when our phones were returned, there were lots of messages. I think the first message that I read was from our CEO... then only I realised, hang on 'I have a world record'..." In the incessant data-driven world of international sport, there is real time update whenever athletes break world records. But Anuradha Doddaballapur's four wickets in as many balls against Austria in the fourth T20I on August 14 didn't immediately register. She had become the first woman to achieve it (Rashid Khan and Lasith Malinga have done it in men's cricket).

After reading the message from the CEO as well as the constant notifications from various apps on her phone, her only regret was her failure to not celebrate the moment with a bit more verve. "If you look at the fourth ball, neither me nor my teammates knew there was a record to be broken. So after I picked up the wicket, it (the celebration) was a bit bland. If I had known, I would have reacted (according to the situation)." ****

If Anuradha was creating a world record in August 2020, the path she followed to that moment in Vienna was a deeply unconventional one. For starters, it began some 20 summers ago in Basavangudi in South Bangalore. She rose through the ranks after playing age-group cricket, eventually representing Karnataka. But this was a time when women's cricket in the country was regarded as a dead end, with players lacking opportunity. There was also a lack of money in the sport.

So she packed her bags to do further studies at Newcastle University (Medical Genetics) in the UK. But, crucially, she had packed her kit as well. While studying in England, she further honed her cricketing skills as a bowling all-rounder. She went on to play for a few sides including Northumberland County in the UK.

After three years in the north east, she moved to Germany, to pursue a Ph.D. in cardiovascular biology. With cricket clubs limited and few and far in between, she had her work cut out if she had to keep her passion going. She decided to pool in resources and create one women's cricket club in Frankfurt, her base in the country, some 5-6 years ago.

After those baby steps, her standing in the sport within Germany grew which saw her ultimately named captain in her debut T20I match against Oman in February this year (she had captained Germany since 2017 to play T20 games but the ICC was yet to give T20I status to those games).

All this while pursuing a day job as a postdoctoral research scientist at the Angiogenesis and Metabolism Laboratory, an independent research group at the Max Planck Institute for Heart and Lung Research, in Bad Nauheim, some 30 kms from Frankfurt.

The Germany women's team are ranked 26th out of 59th in World T20 rankings. Sandwiched by China (25) and Japan (27), the team needs all the matches they can lay their hands on for experience as well as moving up the ladder.

An important assignment up next for Anuradha and her team is a regional European qualifier for the T20 World Cup. Do well there and they will all begin to dream the improbable dream.

Three wrestlers Covid +ve

Olympic-bound Deepak, who lost his mother a few months ago, not rattled by infection

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THIS couldn't have come at a worse moment. Months after losing his mother, Olympic-bound wrestler Deepak Punia (86kg) tested positive for Covid-19 on Thursday. For Deepak, his mother was instrumental in shaping his career and her death almost shattered him.

"Those were very difficult times," he told this daily from Sonepat. Unlike the demise of mother, he is taking this in his stride. "I will come out of this without any problem," said Deepak, who is asymptomatic.

According to Sports Authority of India, the other two freestyle wrestlers who tested positive are Navin (65kg) and Krishan (125kg). All the wrestlers, who reached Sonepat's SAI centre on Tuesday for the national camp, underwent the tests next day.

World No 2 Deepak's career saw a meteoric rise last year. He became India's first junior world champion in 18 years and followed it up with another breathtaking performance in senior Worlds by winning silver and qualifying for Olympics. He was also named UWW Junior Freestyle Wrestler of the Year.

The 21-year-old though managed to bag bronze in the Asian Championships held in New Delhi earlier this year but suffered the biggest loss of his life after his mother Krishna Devi passed away.

"His mother suffered a cardiac arrest during the lockdown and passed away. The tragedy meant he stayed at home and trained at my akhara whenever he got time," said Virender Dalal, the wrestler's childhood coach and owner of Lala Diwanchand Wrestling and Yoga Centre in Chhara village (Jhajjar), Haryana.

down and passed away. The tragedy meant he stayed at home and trained at my akhara whenever he got time," said Virender Dalal, the wrestler's childhood coach and owner of Lala Diwanchand Wrestling and Yoga Centre in Chhara village (Jhajjar), Haryana.

Deepak is second Olympic-bound Indian wrestler to get infected. Earlier, Vinesh Phogat, the only woman wrestler from the country to qualify for the Games so far, tested positive ahead of the National Sports Awards. The 53kg wrestler, however, tested negative twice since then.

"As per protocol, all wrestlers along with the coaches and support staff were made to undergo mandatory RT-PCR test for Covid-19. The wrestlers have been moved to a SAI empanelled hospital as a precautionary measure and for monitoring," read a SAI statement. It is understood the camp will not be affected because the wrestlers were tested on arrival and were staying in single rooms. Food was served in their rooms.

After hockey players & shuttlers, grapplers are next lot of elite athletes to test positive.

Top seed tumbles out of US Open

AFP @ New York

FRANCE'S Caroline Garcia produced the biggest upset of the US Open on Wednesday, sending top seed Karolina Pliskova out of the tournament. Garcia, the World No 50, scored one of the biggest wins of her career with a 6-1, 7-6 (7/2) second-round victory at Louis Armstrong Stadium.

The 26-year-old's one hour 33 minute-victory sends her into a third round meeting on Friday with American 28th seed Jennifer Brady.

Sharan-Cacic duo out

Divij Sharan and his men's doubles partner Nikola Cacic crashed out in the first round. The Indo-Serbian pair lost 4-6, 6-3, 3-6 to eighth seeds Nikola Mektic and Wesley Koolhof.

ECB wants series in UAE, BCCI says no

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

WITH Covid-19 cases rising in India, the England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB) is understood to have requested the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) to explore the possibility of playing the Anthony de Mello series in UAE. BCCI is learnt to have said 'no' to the request. But there are also indications that BCCI is yet to get firm confirmation from ECB regarding the tour itself.

England were supposed to feature in a limited-overs series in September, but it has been postponed to early next year. India and England are scheduled to play a five-match Test series, which is part of the ICC Test Championship in February-March. But BCCI wants to convert it into a three-match Test series, so that they can accommodate three ODIs and as many T20Is. While the ECB is understood to be open to the idea, it continues to have second-thoughts about touring India.

In July, when both boards agreed to postpone the limited-overs leg to next year, they had agreed to play the series in India. But after BCCI shifted the IPL to UAE, ECB is understood to have asked the Indian board if it can explore the same possibility for the England series.

While BCCI is ready to convince ECB that it can create a safe bio-secure bubble, talks have been slow. The BCCI believes since it has hired the same firm that set up the bubble in England for series against West Indies and Pakistan, this should convince ECB to take the flight to India. BCCI is also ready to keep the Tests to just two venues with Ahmedabad being spoken about as one.

The Indian team-management has already shut down the idea as the Test series holds plenty of importance to them considering the Championship final spot is up for grabs.

Though India continue to lead the table, the series loss in New Zealand has made things difficult. Considering there's a tough Australia tour away, they believe they should use the advantage of playing in India.

T20Is to start Oz tour?

Meanwhile, Cricket Australia has asked BCCI if they can start the tour Down Under with T20Is, followed by ODIs and Tests. If that's the case, the Boxing Day Test might be the first Test.

Key to educate people more than taking a knee: Finch

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

ATHLETES and teams around the world have been taking knees, a gesture showcasing solidarity and support towards the Black Lives Matter movement. The same was also witnessed before the start of all three Test matches between England and West Indies in July. But it may not be the case when England play host to Australia in the three-match T20I series, starting Friday at the Rose Bowl in Southampton.

Australia skipper Aaron Finch feels more than these protests, it is important for people to be educated about it. "I have spoken to Eoin (Morgan) and we are not going to do specific gestures like it has happened in the past. The education around it is more important than the protest," said Finch in a virtual press conference.

Australia T20I captain Aaron Finch

These words also bring back memories of West Indies great Michael Holding, who delivered a moving speech, stating the importance of education in such matters a couple of months back.

"For us, we were proud to play a game where it is celebrated all around the world and anyone can play it. It doesn't matter what race, what religion, what nationality you are from. Cricket is a game for everyone and I am really proud about that," Finch added.

England might have played all formats since the resumption of cricket in a bio-secure environment, but this limited over series will amark Australia's return to action after a gap of over five months. They last played against New Zealand in March.

With the series played under new norms due to Covid-19 restrictions, it could be the way ahead for cricket series and tournaments ahead, at least till the situation improves. A majority of the England and Australia players, who are involved in the upcoming series, will also head to UAE for the Indian Premier League 2020, which is also going to be played under some strict protocols.

And Finch, who will represent Royal Challengers Bangalore this season, will be playing under the leadership of Virat Kohli. The Australian is willing to pick Virat's brain and learn new things if possible.

"Not sure if I can offer many technical tips to Virat. He has been successful over all three formats and all around the world so I will be doing everything I can to pick his brain on batting, strategy and technique. It is like whenever you play in any team, wherever it is around the world, you try and learn as much as you can from anyone. Sometimes it is not always the best players that have the best advice. Sometimes you can take a lot from other players as well and hopefully I can give back as much to the Bangalore dressing room as well."

Debate rages over US bid to rush vaccine approval

CDC tells states to get ready for vaccine rollout by November 1; formulations by Moderna and Pfizer could be the agency's target

EARLY CLEARANCE

WASHINGTON: The US has urged states to get ready for a potential Covid-19 vaccine rollout two days before the presidential election, but critics are concerned that the administration could force regulators to cut corners.

In a widely circulated letter, the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention asked states to sweep away red tape that could prevent a network of vaccine distribution centers being "fully operational by Nov. 1, 2020."

That is two days before voters head to the polls in an election clouded by the virus and the economic crisis it provoked, sparking concerns President Donald Trump's administration is rushing to have a vaccine before November 3.

Priority will be given to essential workers, national security officials, seniors and members of vulnerable racial and ethnic groups, according to The New York Times.

Three Western drug makers are progressing with their Phase 3 clinical trials, involving tens of thousands of participants.

Emergency approval

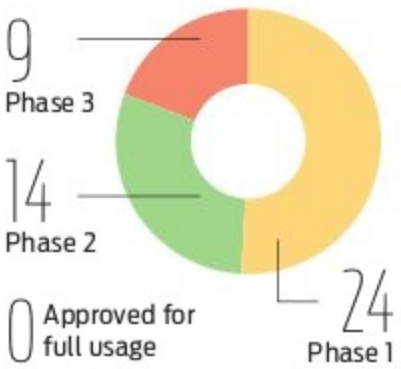

By the nature of the trials, it is difficult to predict when reliable results will emerge.

The US Food and Drug Administration however has raised the possibility that a vaccine might be given emergency approval before the end of trials.

A request for such extraordinary approval would have to come from the vaccine devel-

Vaccine candidates being tested on people

To my knowledge, none of the US COVID19 vaccines have finished even enrolling test subjects for Phase 3 trials. Rushing this to completion within 59 days is DANGEROUS

Laurie Garrett, an award-winning epidemiology writer oper, FDA chief Stephen Hahn told the Financial Times in an interview published Sunday.

The FDA has faced mounting criticism from the medical community that it is bowing to political pressure from Donald Trump, who has been pushing hard for a Covid-19 vaccine, saying one might be ready before the election.

"Being ready is reasonable. Cutting short phase 3 trials before you get the information you need isn't," said Dr. Paul Offit, a Children's Hospital of Philadelphia immunization expert who sits on the FDA's vaccine advisory committee.

Peter Hotez, dean of Baylor University's tropical medicine school, said he was "very concerned" about whether the FDA would use an emergency use authorization to approve a vaccine before knowing whether it works and is safe.

Unlike a therapeutic that is given to sick people who may have no alternative, a vaccine is given to healthy people, "so you have a much higher burden of proof," said Ashish Jha, dean of Brown University's public health school. "I think it's reasonable to be communicating to hospitals and saying — at some point late in the fall or winter," Jha said. "November feels awfully early."

RNA vaccines

The Times has reported that the CDC may be making preparations for the vaccine candidates from Moderna and Pfizer, based on technical details in planning documents on dosage times and storage temperatures. The agency itself has not named the vaccine candidates, only referring to them as Vaccine A and Vaccine B.

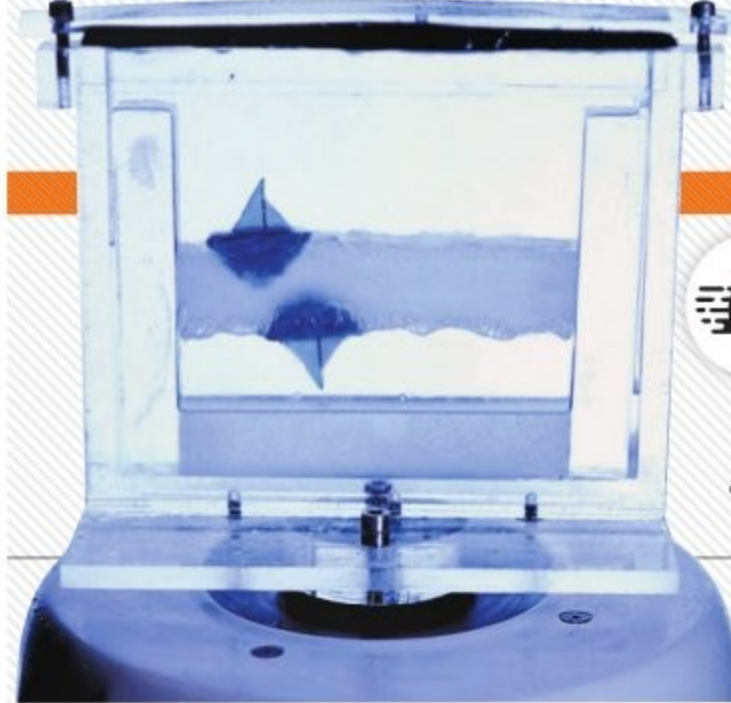

The two vaccines, in Phase 3, are the furthest along in the development process. They are a totally new kind of vaccine, which has genetic molecules called messenger RNA. The molecules are injected into muscle cells for building a protein.

BOAT FLOATS UPSIDE DOWN IN QUIRKY EXPERIMENT

An exciting property of physics has allowed scientists to float a toy boat upside down on a hovering body of liquid. We examine the science behind it the liquid is shaken up and down. The vibrations here are key to keeping the liquid afloat in air and the boat on the liquid

EXPLANATION
1/2 L

Buoyancy
Any object partially or fully submerged in liquid experiences a skyward push, whose force depends on the object's mass. Here, the boat is experiencing buoyancy in the reverse direction, counteracting gravity

Bering sea at lowest level in 5,500 yrs

ICE-FREE SOON

PARIS: Winter ice in the Bering Sea, in the northern Pacific Ocean between Alaska and Russia, is at its lowest levels for 5,500 years, according to a study released Wednesday.

Researchers analyzed vegetation that accumulated on the uninhabited island of St Matthew over the last five millennia. They looked at variations in peat layers of oxygen atoms called isotopes 16 and 18, whose proportions over time correlate with atmospheric and oceanic changes and precipitation.

"It's a small island in the middle of the Bering Sea, and it's essentially been recording what's happening in the ocean and atmosphere around it," said Miriam Jones, the researcher who conducted the study at the University of Alaska and then at the US Geological Survey.

The scientists studied a single 1.45-meter (4.7-foot) peat core, taken from St Matthew in 2012, which represented 5,500 years of accumulation.

"What we've seen most recently is unprecedented in the last 5,500 years," writes Matthew Wooller, director of the Alaska Stable Isotope Facility.

The ice in the Arctic and Bering Seas melts in summer and freezes anew in winter, but satellite observations only date back to 1979.

For the Arctic, the reduction of winter ice in recent decades is clear and rapid, in parallel with global warming and the increasing concentration of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere.

But the Bering Sea in recent decades has seemed stable, the authors of the study say — with the exception of 2018 and 2019, when a strong reduction was observed.

The advantage of the new analysis, published in the journal Science Advances, is that it goes back much further in time, allowing researchers to establish whether the current levels are an anomaly or a trend.

At this rate, conditions are now favorable for a completely "ice-free" Bering Sea, the authors conclude, setting in motion a domino effect of consequences on the ecosystem.

Record CO₂ release from Arctic fires

STILL BLAZING

PARIS: This year's Arctic Circle wildfires, still ablaze, have already surpassed the record set in 2019 for CO₂ emissions, adding to the carbon pollution humanity needs to curtail, the European Union's Earth observation programme said.

Uncontrolled forest fires across one of the planet's coldest regions has sent a quarter of a billion tonnes of CO₂ spiralling into the atmosphere since January this year, topping by more than a third the total for 2019, according to satellite data.

The Arctic Circle includes latitudes upwards of 66 degrees North.

Almost all of the fires are in Russia, the EU's Copernicus Atmosphere Monitoring Service and the European Centre for Medium-Range Weather Forecasts jointly reported.

Russia's Eastern Federal District, which includes parts of the Arctic Circle, emitted more than half-a-billion tonnes of CO₂ from June to August 2020, also the highest amount to date.

FACT OF THE MATTER

BCG shots help older people

IMMUNITY

The BCG vaccine, which is frequently given to children to prevent tuberculosis, is safe to give to the elderly, and can protect them against various infections, according to a study which says it may have a broad, stimulating effect on the human immune system. However the study Cell cautioned that it is unclear whether the vaccine can prevent Covid-19 in the older sections of the population. The scientists, including those from Radboud University Medical Center in the Netherlands, showed that elderly people benefit from the vaccine by an effect called "trained immunity." In the research, they assessed 198 people who were given either a placebo or BCG vaccine upon discharge from the hospital.

GPS data for Covid tracing

PHONE-TRACKING

Publicly available cell phone location data could be used to better estimate Covid-19 spread, and inform decision-making when it comes to shutdowns and reopening, according to a US study. The research, published in the journal JAMA Internal Medicine, shows that counties in the US with a greater decline in workplace cell phone activity during stay-at-home orders showed a lower rate of COVID-19 infections. "It is our hope that counties can incorporate this publicly available cell phone data to guide policies regarding re-opening for different stages of the pandemic," said the study's senior author, Joshua Baker from the University of Pennsylvania.

ZIMBABWE FINDS 10 MORE DEAD JUMBOS

RISING TOLL

LONDON: Zimbabwe wildlife authorities on Thursday said they suspect ten more elephants succumbed to a bacterial infection that killed 12 young pachyderms last week.

The latest carcasses were discovered on Tuesday and Wednesday near the northwestern Pandamasuwe Forest, where the previous 12 were found. "We now have a total of 22 elephants that have died," parks and wildlife authority spokesman Tinashe Farawo told AFP on Thursday.

"We have taken samples for testing but we suspect they died from the same cause as the 12 that were found dead last week."

Laboratory results suggest the first dozen — discovered between Hwange National Park and the resort town of Victoria Falls — were killed by a bacteria.

Park authorities believe the elephants, aged between two and six, were too short to eat leaves from treetops and may have ingested the bacteria by grazing on infected plants.
